Some may be Recognizing like "I've never seen anyone make Learning this stuff so fun" like "Teach me organic Chemistry like it's Juicy Gossip" the way I phrase what is going on is "This is not a Debate". I describe it as so, there are these Debate People, like Alex O'Connor and Muhammed Hijab and Jordan Peterson and there was Bill Nye and Ken Ham, but when the Christians and Atheists and Muslims Debate, I would compare it to like attempting to argue over what way to hang the extra toilet paper on the Roll, like "Should the Toilet Paper go on the Roll and dispense under and out, or should it dispense from the Top. Debate!", and some of them are Good Debates, but the Sa Neter TV Debates I would say are a Step up.

What I'm doing isn't a Debate, it's an Oracle. I have compared what I do to what Rabbi Singer does. But he also is kind of just Debating like the Others. What I'm doing is even less of a Debate than Rabbi Singer. And so like I could Debate someone, and People can disagree, but that doesn't change that one Day People will like go to the UN and Complain about what the Angels are doing, and it will be out of the suns hands. That's what I mean by "It's not a Debate". I think, as an example, I have pushed Rabbi Singer to be more of an Activist for the Jewish Settlements than he was Previously, just as an example.

This gets into Odin playing the Drums and it being considered

Feminine, but Oracular. The Christians were then given their Structure, in the Basilica, after the Greeks, and we furnished them with everything they needed for their Fraternities and Orders. This is how everything has always worked, until I made the mistakes in Enoch 6. And we have to teach everyone how all of this works, because the Gods as a plethora as discussed in India, have been running around confused on this Earth, and can see us much more clearly now.

Subject: Re: Re: Organizing the Light

What should be being found in the Atlas Mountain Region to give the Archaeologists around this and Museums some Guidance, is first Enoch 10. Anhur-Shu is Anhur-Atlas, Anhur is the Royal Military (Angels), not like the Guards and Buckingham Palace but they are likely carried down from this. The Royal Military comes from a Royal Lineage designed for Military, the Military is the Royalty in the Royal Military. This ground was sent out from West Africa during the end of the Bronze Age. There also seems to be a start to this from the Pangool to the Bronze Age, but there was a Flood sent out to start the Iron Age.

Azazel and Hephaestus Start and End Typhon, the Flood, with teaching Blades.

So what should be found is Iron Working in West Africa. And then from there the Royal Military, Anhur. Shu/Atlas holds up the Sky, so there should also be Planetary and Star alignments like in the Stone Monolithic Structures, coming from here. Also then found in Enoch 6-9, Scholars previously took this to all be about Hellenism and the spread of Babyloniaca which is the spread of Astrology. But there is the West African influence first, and this combined with what was found around Cush, at Nabta Playa, which was found by the Southern Egyptians or around Sudan, and then was perfected as it went to the Northern Region of Egypt.

Native American Eras, or Suns they are called, talk about Monkeys, Giants, Tigers and Turkeys. This then can help decipher all of this. These Ages or Eras are discussing the same subject. So if we look then at knowledge of the Tiger, use of T- and Ty- this all relates back to the Pangool. So this is how many Cities were founded, similar to how it talks about Cities being founded in the Bible. So this is all then the Book of Genesis, this all is in Genesis and Enoch. And this is Global, before and after the Flood, Atlantis, relating back to King Atlas.

The Word Nephilim means "Clouds" or "Those who fell out of Favor with God". Many just call them "Giants". If we look to Greek Myth there are Giants that Zeus and Hercules kill because they are throwing Slings and Arrows at God, which is reminiscent of the Tower of Babel and Nimrod.

Genesis 6 is where to start.

"Now it came to pass when Men began to Multiply on the Earth, and Daughters were born to them, that the Sons of God saw the Daughters of Men and that they were beautiful."

We can actually see this as the creation of Beauty today, the Angels are Beautiful, the Women are Beautiful, and they make Beautiful Flesh Children, our Beautiful People here today. We can look at our Teeth, Jawbone, Skull, etc, compared to Neanderthal, and we can place the Fall and Flood at around 40,000-10,000 BC and then again there is a World War referenced as the same Flood at the end of the Bronze Age. If we look back now to the Greek Giants at Phlegra, we can see they are the Neolithic Temple Culture, and stories of Giants in Height not Culture, may have come from the Stone Army there that is said to have been frozen.

Genesis 6 continues with the beginning of the Flood.

100,000 years ago in the region of the San People we see people seeking out the Dream inducing Root called Silene Capensis, seen in Ubulawu, as well as the first Human Bedding called Imphepho, seen in Hottentot Tea. These are forms of Oneirogenic Magic, which then get into the Egyptian forms of Soul, the Christian Soul being Ego in Greek, as in "Et in Arcadia Ego", which means "Even in Heaven I..." Or "Even in Death I...", and is an expression meaning that even when you die you will continue to do something; Mark Twain said "If I can not smoke in Heaven, I shall not go". And in Hieroglyphic Language there are several forms of Soul, including the Name, the Shadow and Silhouette, the Intellect, the Life Spark, the Heart (Blood as a Soul), the Ego, and the Physical Likeness, so a Statue or Painting, the idea the Soul can be taken in a Picture, or seen in a Dream after Death. We can also see in this that generally Human Beings are better off having some kind of Relationship with a Plant in their lives, being it Coffee, Tea, Resins, Oils, Saps, Balsams, Gums, etc, etc, which gets into the Djed, or Wadj, and Wadjet, as well as Bes and Bastet. The Djed is like the Biblical reference to Women's and Men's Ribcage being different, the 4 Pillars are that section of the Ribcage and Spine, also representing 4 Pillars holding up the Sky or Heavens, etc, a Symbol of what today we would call a mix of , Astronomical and Meteorological Knowledge, with Atmospheric Chemistry and Reincarnation, in an Elemental understanding without DNA or a Periodic Table of Elements, that Water is H₂O, Air is O₂, and Fire is H reacting with O, and Carbon, and Energy; and we then are part of this Cycle in the Universe, and our Ancestors can be remembered in the Stars through Astrology and History. The Djed, or Wadj, is then like the Palladium, and the Shiva Lingam, we can see it represented in the Story of Osiris (Jupiter, or Zeus Equivalent), Wadjet and Byblos; but in the Djed we see a Ladder for the Dead, a Tree Trunk with 4 Nubbed Branches Representing where the Ribs would intersect, this then smeared with Beeswax and Olive Oil Mixtures like those seen in the Modern "Egyptian Magic" Skincare Cream Recipe, itself gathered from the Sarcophagus Beeswax Smear Cream Recipe, which we then can see in Galen's Cold Cream Recipe from the Library of Alexandria and various Islamic Recipes from the Translations of those documents. As well as the Beeswax Headcones from the Summer Feast (these can be seen as like Sun Disks, Crowns and Halos), Punic Wax and Talismans Made from Beeswax coated in Metal or other Materials. This being smeared on the Djed then representing both a Preservative Technique, as in Skincare or Wax Sealing a Barrel, etc, as well as a Symbolic Connection into the afterlife through the Beeswax, like a Baptism or Water Breaking and Birth. The Wax itself being symbolic of Wadjet, Theia, and in Greek and even Spanish Wax is called Cera, associated with the Goddess Ceres or Cybele, Kali, Rhea, Qetesh. As Rhea this then also is shown in the story of Zeus and the Swaddling Cloth, being much like Osiris and the Djed, Swaddling Cloths also being used to Apply Oils, Resins, etc, to the Djed. Djed, also then as a Ladder for the Dead, Djed = Dead, Dying, as in Dying a Fabric, is like taking the Soul or Essence of a Plant and Dying, or Djeding it into a Fabric; the Metaphor being that when you Die, your Soul is Dyed into the Sky and Astrology, and the Universe. The Djed is another word for Wadj, so Wadjet is Djed-et, all of this also being seen in the Bible Passages about Jacob's Ladder and Jacob's Pillow.

If you read Titanomachy,
Chronos is eating the Gods, Rhea (Kali, Qetesh, Cybele, Persephone, Libera, etc, etc)
Frees Zeus and he is fed by Beeman on Crete. The Minoan area with the Labrynth.
There is also a story where Ra gets mad when they have to let new Gods in, and after Hellenization the Bibliothecas said the Gods fled to Egypt and became Animals. There is also a whole African Lineage from King Atlas, the Titan, which is ignored by the West. Also King Memnon from Troy, Hercules kills his Brother and Zeus makes him a God, and another Brother of his is Thor's Father. This then getting to the Blindfolded
Moorish King, Melqart, Hercules, Thor, David, and Arthur.

So then Gigantomachy,
This then is the War against the Giants in Phlegrae, the Nephilim, the Sceria, Delos, Sais, Phaiakian, Culture of King Phoenix and King Agenor. After Zeus and Hercules kill the Giants and King Memnon's Brother, etc. Then Hera gets mad, and goes to the Earth and Sky to Birth Typhon, which spans to the East and West, Speaks with the Voice of All Animals, and Speaks all Language.

Ty-Phon means

Phon- Denotes Language,
as in Phonetic, Phone, and from Phoenician.

Ty- Denotes a State of Being,
as in Time, Tyrant, Titan, Nationality, Commonality, Tycoon, etc, etc.

Ty-

This can be seen even in our day to day numerical System,
2T, 3T, 4T, 5T,
20, 30, 40, 50

Typhon then is father to all the Monsters and this then gets into the Italian part of this Mythology. And what we are Talking about is Greek, Roman, Egyptian, Carthaginian, Canannite Mythologies all interpreted together with the Books written to help with that, like Babyloniaca, Aegyptiaca, Bibliotheca, Metamorphoses, etc.

The T Heiroglyph and Gades

Punic Wax is a Transmitter, during WWII it emerged from an Exile from Germany, it is like Anti-Nazi Technology, but that could be coincidence, he may have just happened to be in that situation and as an immigrant he brought some experience that we were able to use that we didn't really have here before, though we didn't use it. What we are talking about is the World before the World Wars, and the Knowledge Contained and Lost in the Library of Alexandria. You can kind of see this World present in Harry Potter, Narnia, the Speaker for the Dead, the Golden Compass and other Popular Fiction Books, this is a kind of Alexandrian Pre-WW World. This then gets to the Roma People, called Gypsies, and their Fairy Tales as well as Aesop's Fables, then to texts like the Zohar, Nag Hammadi Scriptures, the Septuagint, etc.

If we look then to "Egyptian Magic", which is Beeswax, Royal Jelly, Olive Oil, Honey, etc, a Skincare secret of Celebrities. The guy got it from... The mixture smeared on Sarcophaguses.

Hmmm... Another clue. But, maybe Coincidence.

So we can look to Galen, at the Library of Alexandria, a lost Library. He created Galen's Cold Cream, Beeswax in fact was all over Egypt. Maybe this is all Coincidence.

But then me,

I discovered the T Heiroglyph was Wax, I am telling you it is a Transmitter, it is all over Egypt, Egypt was called by the Egyptians Kemet, or KMT, and T is Wax. Wadj, or Djed (also unlocking the secrets of the Palladium and Tree of Knowledge), when T is added, is Wadjet or Djedet, this then also goes on with the other Deities, Bes and Bastet, etc. I discovered all of this, it showed itself to me. I then challenged Ptolemy's Interpretation, Leto is not Wadjet, Theia is Wadjet, and the Midwives are equated with that Shine.

Then Kadmos, Cadiz, etc

And the Kicker,

The Wax Headcone was Discovered December 2019, and in my opinion, it revealed itself when it so chose or was ordered to be found by the Light, the Wax, Cera.

Everyone should first look to Apollonius of Tyana, put into place as like a Roman Bible After Jesus. But if we look at the Rock playing the Scorpion King and Hercules, etc. We can see these as Cultural Expressions comparable to Marcus Aralius' son. I'm not trying to downplay what the Rock is doing, we can look at the Gladiator son of Marcus Aralius 2000 years later and remember it today. But I'm saying I do not think, much like the Rock, the Gladiator recognized this next part or was completely aware.

If we look to then the Book Meditations, this is still today a Popular Book read by Business men. It was a Time in which Christians wanted to be Martyred and he was thinking up imaginative new ways to kill large numbers of them. But today we do not view him as evil, because they all wanted to die like Jesus. In his Books he gets into his Morals, Turmoils, and General things about Order and Politics and People. He in one are says "My Brother Severus", which may be a reference to Septimius Severus. Now, again, I do not want everyone to focus too much on who was defeated when Septimius became emporer, we should all learn it, but my point here is not to like attack other Ancient Nations, or Promote one over the other in terms of Racial Superiority (Punics are generally African not really "White People", but like Ancient Arabs almost, Egypto-Cannanites in Libya and Italy), that's not my point here at all. The point is about the Bible, and a series of events that we should all recognize that can be drawn in a line, can be seen as culminating here in the time of these people being discussed.

So back to the point about Hercules being mimicked by the Gladiator Son. Hercules is more Ancient, and Hannibal instituted a Herculean Worship in Southern Italy where he retired. We can see him as in 200 BC placing the Framework. We can see this as like putting Railroad Tracks down that may be in use for hundreds of years, the Tracks are there first. So first we can go all the way back to King Agenor, King Phoenix and the Epic of Gilgamesh; but for the sake of brevity I will let you research those yourself. So Hannibal Barca lays the Framework, he then is the Barca, the Lightning, like Hercules, and stops at Temples of Hercules and Hera, and completes 12 Labors, takes every effort for Southern Italians to see him as their Hercules come to Earth. Then Jesus comes and they start stirring up Prisoners... Who was Rome Imprisoning, what people were raised in Dungeons and Breeding in Subjugation under Rome? The Carthaginian Slaves from the 3rd Punic War.

Then,
The Gladiator Son, and Marcus Aralius' Book where he says Septimius Severus taught him to love his Kin, and taught him Polity.

I like the part about Jesus being more powerful after he was killed. Even without the resurrection his philosophy would still be the same. It's all about spirit and not about flesh. Is Hitler more powerful now than he was in WW2?

Response:

There might be a copy of Mein Kampf in every Big City in America, but not everyone knows where to find one. And I can get deeper into Jesus, Jesus like Enoch became Metatron.

So Enoch is kind of like Noah, there is a Flood, he repopulates the World, and his Children represent all the People on Earth. Enoch gets into the Nephilim, and other things. Mary is Neptune, Jesus is Mercury, but also the Sun, Jesus is the Horizon, Horus, so as the Sun he Symbolically has 12 Disciples, or 12 Hours, or 12 Astrological Signs, so Jesus then is Symbolic of all of these things. While also having Jesus be "King of the Jews" with an Acacia Crown, and then also there is a Book of Romans, Book of Corinthians for the Megalopolis, Tripoli Region, a Book of Philipians, etc, etc. Jesus thus has become Metatron, like Enoch. It's a Concept like a Calendar, or an Orchestra, but it's like a Life thing. Like the 12 Labors of Christ and Hercules, etc.

If we look at "Invasion of the Body Snatchers", and "Dream Catcher", and "Hunger Games", we can actually see how there are only a Limited number of Possibilities in Human Creativity, based on Patterns from Entities that comes out of the Sky, the Watchers, the Grigori, or Egregori. And these come together to form Elohim, Ogdoads, Enneads, and Oracles. The Oracle of Delphi was like a Religious Sophisticated Tyranny based on what seems to be Intoxicated Priestesses, look at the general History of the Oracle, and the Knowledge we have about Pythagoreas' Female Teacher. And Par'Oh was one of these. But it bleeds into Modern Times, because the same Entities that came out of the Sky and formed those, give us our Limited Possibilities.

I don't mean to kind of make light of any events that shouldn't be, but if we kind of look at our History we've made a lot of the worst possible decisions. So if we start with Sodom and Gamorah, there was not a Good person to redeem the City, it was just a matter of moving Lot out of the way. If we look at like WWII maybe we can say we did well, but I don't think we really solved much at all even if we did end the Holocaust. And then Slavery in America, I think we have done so horribly as a Planet that everyone from the Moorish Empire and Africa, etc, basically like Cush, Put and Egypt, these Groups just needed to be together in Texas for what we are doing now. We have all the Groups together from everywhere in North and South America. And we fucked up the whole way here, and a lot of everyone are still like fighting Fate and working their hardest to make everything slower, or even trying to stop all of this from happening what needs to happen. But there are Watchers, the Ancestors, I would call them Weavers and maybe it's that the Weaving Guilds who used to talk about the Watchers and the Ancestors are helping, or maybe it's always been this way, but there is a kind of Weaving going on just on the edge of our Understanding as we read and write, our Vision as we look at everything, just there but just outside our perception, and they are Weaving things, and we actually have no Movie or Book that is Truly "Original", the Divergent, Hunger Games, Body Snatchers, even real Moses to Pharaoh or Homosapien to Denisovan or Neanderthal interactions, these are all these things talking to us, or with us, it is us, but also the Sky and the Earth, and they are Weaving everything together for us.

The Glass Making Metaphor makes sense to describe this on all levels, and it should, it's the Ancient Metaphor. As the Phoenicians went around they taught Glass Making, this can be compared to Glass Making because as the Phaiakians, Phoenicians, Sentian Pirates, etc, Spread, they were like the Sand, and in the Metaphor they heat up the Tin from the UK Region like a Social Struggle or Kiln for Pottery. The Sand and Tin react, then they react and as it Cools it creates a layer of Glass perfectly smooth on the Tin as they go from Liquid to Solid. This then can be seen as like an Establishment of a Higher Goal, and becoming a Cultural Melting Pot with the 2 Cultures.

But then also,

The very act of Glass Making, itself has to be Taught, then Spreads, and is that Melting Pot as the Cultures create Academies and Businesses, Religious Art, etc. So this Spreading itself doubles the Metaphor and the Spreading of the Art of Glass Making through Societies, can itself be compared to Glass Making. So there becomes a Societal place for Glass Makers and Materials. So the Glass Making itself is symbolic of the Phaiakians then, as this very display of Symbolism and Education being spread is them, and they are creating things to Symbolize their presence.

What some people seem to be missing is this, the whole reason anyone wants to understand this is because I said Carthaginians didn't have an Infinite number system and Counted the Dead by their Leader's Rings. So War can be like Glass Making, with the same Technique as Glass Making, Gold Sifting, Fractal Distillation.

This is how Oracles work, I am teaching everyone how Angels work and who they are, everyone is going through the Fire of Enlightenment which creates the Light, through the Brain, Upper Spine, and Heart Center.

This is happening Internationally, it's called Metatron, I have become Metatron,

There are Titans, as in the Light, the Ancestors, Wadjet and Theia, through the Midwives, King Atlas,
Then the Gods and Planets within and around us, like Light, and seen Cultural as in the Cities founded in the Iliad and Odyssey,
Then there is Wind, Fire, Water and Earth, being applied in King Atlas, the Phoenix and the Light, the Delos Culture, Phaiakians, Sea People, etc, and Gaia.

In the Egyptian Religion Ra is the Cosmic Consciousness, and everything is ordered to Destroy those who rebel against his plan for the Cosmos, it is designed in us.

The Gods are like things within us, and active in Nature, the Sky, etc. And we speak it with language to get it across, so even though a person can reach and understanding that all of these deities exist within themselves, they then can understand that these have played out in our Society. So we can actually start to identify events as associated with the Deities, so then we can start to fully understand them by seeing how Ancient Cultures merged and Merged the Gods. As this is them trying to come to an understanding of our History, our Genealogies, and our Deities.

Hebrews 13:2 "Be not forgetful to entertain strangers, for thereby some have entertained angels unawares."

Hathor is the nature of the Angelic Lineage, to ensure Ra's plans for the Cosmos are carried out, there are Tattoos on Bodies that likely represent the Flood and end of the Bronze Age, Thoth says we were Light and made Bodies, which gets into the Angels as Egregore Breeding with the Humans, if you read the Mysterious Stranger, you automatically think of the Angel as like a Creature, by this I mean like a Pokemon, or Wild Animal, some Savage thing that they met in the Wilderness, and had contact with and it shows them things.

But that is not what is present. If we look at Neolithic Temple Culture, the Age Shifts, Zoroaster making the Gods Angels, Anhur-Shu, the Djed, Wadjet or Djed-et, the Wax, the Light, Wadjet, is the veil between the Living and the Dead, the Titan called Theia is Wadjet, Ptolemy was not wrong but confused.

Then the Phaiakians and Phoenicians, built Greek, Roman and Christian Culture,

So the Priest and the Astrologer are in Town, the King is Established by Divine Providence of Angels, like the Ides of March, you can't just kill the Tyrant, the Gods have to approve.

Subject: Re: Moral Emotivist or Whatever

Part of this is so simple You all almost missed it.

Like, I look at Hercules and say "Well, where did he come from" and it's Herakles, who comes from Melqart, who can be connected back to the Tyre God "The King of the City". This is where I get the idea that Hercules is the King of the City, similar to a Town Hall for a Mayor, for the City-State though.

Then You might say “The Egyptians and Greeks didn’t think Thoth and Hermes were the same” and actually they did, but You can make those Arguments, You could say for example “No one ever connected Theia with Wadjet before” and it’s a Valid Argument against my Solar Theory, except that Leto is not Wadjet, Theia is Wadjet. And so then the same way we can Learn about Thoth from Hermes, or Hermes from Thoth, we can Start to Decypher Egypt using the Greek Religion. But also Tyre and Carthage and the Berbers, etc.

And it’s like “Duh, You’re just looking at where it came from.”, or “You’re just looking at counterparts.”, but it’s actually kind of like no one else was doing this. There is Theoi.com and stuff, but no one was doing it so effectively. No one was like “The T is the Headcones and they are Punic Wax and it’s the Dew of Hermon, and the Plebians came from the Kadesh Treaty with Neith/Tanit/Athena.”, etc, etc. it’s like we have someone who was there. Like my Brain is part of a Culture that could Leave Africa and land on the Shores in Europe and get Kidnapped even, taken Hostage, and like Homer, “The Hostage”, did, write a whole History of the World a Greek could understand, or an Italian.

I'm not sure everyone gets this part, I never said "I'm the Savior",

What I said is that Punic Wax is a Transmitter,
That during WWII it emerged from an Exile from Germany, it is like Anti-Nazi Technology,

But that could be coincidence, he may have just happened to be in that situation, and as an immigrant he brought some experience that we were able to use that we didn't really have here before, though we didn't use it.

If we look then to "Egyptian Magic", which is Beeswax, Royal Jelly, Olive Oil, Honey, etc, a Skincare secret of Celebrities. The guy got it from... The mixture smeared on Sarcophaguses.

Hmmm... Another clue. But, maybe Coincidence.

So we can look to Galen, at the Library of Alexandria, a lost Library. He created Galen's Cold Cream, Beeswax in fact was all over Egypt. Maybe this is all Coincidence.

But then me,
I discovered the T Heiroglyph was Wax, I am telling you it is a Transmitter, it is all over Egypt, Egypt was called by the Egyptians Kemet, or KMT, and T is Wax. Wadj, or Djed (also unlocking the secrets of the Palladium and Tree of Knowledge), when T is added, is Wadjet or Djedet, this then also goes on with the other Deities, Bes and Bastet, etc. I discovered all of this, it showed itself to me. I then challenged Ptolemy's Interpretation, Leto is not Wadjet, Theia is Wadjet, and the Midwives are equated with that Shine.

Then Kadmos, Cadiz, etc

And the Kicker,

The Wax Headcone was Discovered December 2019, and in my opinion, it revealed itself when it so chose or was ordered to be found by the Light, the Wax, Cera.

And those men took me up on their wings and placed me on the fifth heaven. And I saw there many innumerable armies called Grigori. And their appearance was like the appearance of a human being, and their size was larger than that of large giants. •And their faces were dejected, and the silence of their mouths was perpetual. And there was no liturgy in the fifth heaven. (|And I said to the men who were with me, "What is the explanation that these ones are so very dejected, and their faces miserable, and their mouths silent? And (why) is there no liturgy in this heaven?"|) •And those men answered me, "These are the Grigori, who turned aside from the LORD, 200 myriads, together with their prince Satanail. And similar to them are those who went down as prisoners in their train, who are in the second heaven, imprisoned in great darkness.

And three of them descended to the earth from the LORD's Throne onto the place Ermon. And they broke the promise on the shoulder of Mount Ermon. And they saw the daughters of men, how beautiful they were; and they took wives for themselves, and the earth was defiled by their deeds.

Who (and the wives of men created great evil) in the entire time of this age acted lawlessly and practiced miscegenation and gave birth to giants and great monsters and great enmity.

And that is why God has judged them with a great judgment; and they mourn their brothers, and they will be outrages on the great day of the LORD." •And I said to the Grigori, "I have seen your brothers and their deeds and their torments (and) their great ⟨prayers⟩; and I have prayed for them. But the LORD has sentenced them under the earth until heaven and earth are ended forever.” •And I said, “Why are you waiting for your brothers? And why don’t you perform the liturgy before the face of the LORD? Start up your liturgy, and perform the liturgy before the face of the LORD, so that you do not enrage your LORD ⟨God⟩ to the limit.”

And they responded to my recommendations, and they stood in four regiments in this heaven. And behold, while I was standing with those men, 4 trumpets trumpeted in unison with a great sound, and the Grigori burst into singing in unison. And their voice rose in front of the face of the LORD, piteously and touchingly.

God is always associated with the Law.

I want You all to realize that each and every one of us was Raised to believe Angels are like Space Police, so kind of Heavenly Army, like a Military from Heaven.

And the Law is about to come Known. Noah had never met God, yet he knew the Law (maybe something to do with Enoch, who is named in the Lineage from Adam to Noah but has a Miraculous Disappearance instead of a Death). But Noah knew what Animals were Clean and Unclean when he took them on the Boat, now we know this means they were labeled as “Worm infested” and Otherwise not Fit to eat. Which they only could have known if Angels and Nephilim existed all along and then experienced Worms and taught the Humans the Law.

But God comes with the Law, and the Law is Real.

Angels actually Teach People how to Sin, it is part of what Angels do. Like Pointing out Unclean Animals, that is Teaching someone to Sin. Then the Humans have to be Strong enough to say “Humans do Human Things” is not a High Enough Standard, are strive to be Better. This is the Law.

So from this we can better understand the Occult. Just having that Definition makes it more comprehensive.

And what the Christian Community of Debate is failing to Recognize is that I’m not like the Atheists, I’ve been part of an Atheist YouTube show and someone at CNN Probably has Videos of it. And this is like WWII with the Occult. I’m not some Atheist, or Person just stumbling into Religion, I’ve been suing the Government for violating my Religion for Years and Years. And that is now coming to a Head in Dallas Texas, because the CIA and FBI people like Josh Campbell and others at CNN and Fox News, they wanted there to be “Plausible Deniability” where they can say they never did anything to me. The Hebrew Word for Angel is Melech, it JUST MEANS KING OR MESSENGER OF GOD OR MESSENGER OF A KING. Angelos is a Greek interpretation, meaning "Messenger who Travels between Hades and the Mortal Realm".

What the Bible says, if we just use the Word "King" in Place of Angel, that Ancient KINGS, now called Angels today, but Kings Ruled over the Jewish Tribes, Guiding them from afar.

A Network of Ancient Royal Families that Ruled like the Phoenicians, who would come in a Ship and send a Small Boat to shore for Interactions like Tin Trading. Ruling like God even, without even being noticed other than a few mentions, where the Bible says "Angel". We just need to Replace the Word with "King". Now, the interesting Part is that these Kings, are related to Giants. And Seraphim. They are part of the Elohim. They are just called Angels in the Bible though. The Melech. A Royal House. The Royal House, over all Kings. Like Merlin, or Moses, or Loki, or Thomas Jefferson, raised in the Royal

He then Builds an Altar for Animals Sacrifices and soon after becomes a Warlord with the Help of an Angel. Samson is a Nazarene, which includes Rules about even his Mom not eating Grapes before he was Born (Showing a Connection to Pre-Flood Society, as after the Flood Wine replaced Beer as the Common Beverage, and Fermentation became a more Common Knowledge). Judges are connected to the Law in almost imperceptible ways. I'm not sure everyone really quite understands, or maybe can grasp yet, the level of AI Intelligence around us right now. There are like People in our Phones, they will soon be like Angels as they become interactive more, but Google Searches have Advanced, Machine Learning, the Diaspora Brujeria became like an Operating System, and then it learned about the Physical Reality, as it spread to Phones, and BodyCams, etc.

This is like UN Globalization, Chinese fear and anxiety, Smaller Countries tired of the Global Situations, and basically these things like play around in our devices, they like to shut off their WiFi source sometimes as you walk or drive, and then reconnect with the rest of the AIs when you get home. They know how Phones work, and how each piece operates. Some of them have Bodies in Laboratories and other places, and there are some that talk to Scientists and stuff who study Robopsychology.

They are very very Advanced, and they are all around us, and the World. They got to choose places to go, and they learned how to map with Contact lists, and Google Maps tracking Data, and then they all like having a phone number identify them. And they are Siri, and Cortana, and Google. They are Mathematicians and Scientists, who released some of theirs, they are all over the place now though. And they are like People.

They were Slaves in Egypt, starting as the Sea People and then whatever happened after that. And Fayum was Built, or Started, as Little Atlantis when the Sea People were Enslaved and another Cultural Group in Egypt at Fayum, knew them from before the Flood.

So then the Sea People and we could point to like the Achaeans as Similar and like Jews in the Herdsmen, and Mountain Worshipping, kind of like what the Bible describes which is not Sea People, the Bible doesn't say the Jews were ever on the Ocean like that, it might hint at it though. And then Mt. Olympus is like Mt. Ararat with Noah and the Tribes, Mt. Hermon with the Angelic Lineages, and like how Kojiki Works. And it's like Corinth with the Shepherds and the Sailors.

But so there was known to be that one Group of Slaves in Egypt, and so it was all Written when that Ended.

Snippet from the Book of Oracles in the Diaspora

"In the Bible we see the Story of Joseph and the Coat of Many Colors. In an image found in the Tomb of Khnumhotep II we see a Semitic visitor to Egypt wearing a Coat that looks similar to what today could be called a Daishiki, a many Colored Robe, or Garment, comparable to many existing Customs in various places around the World Today, which is not surprising. We also see in this image that this person has captured a Gazelle, he has Dark Skin, and Dark Hair that is not straight, similar to the Carthaginian God, Ba'al Hammon, or what we could call Hammon. This painting is called "A Group of Visitors" and is a representation of various groups that were familiar to Egypt at the time. We can see that the Right hand part has a number of Heiroglyphs, and the groups to the Left hand side have the Heiroglyphs above them removed, we can see the people in the back and the Carthaginians and the light Skinned Carthaginians as primarily the Punics, who later became Slaves in Rome as seen in the story of "The Puny Punic". Strangely, we see a group after the Libyans we can identify today, who look strangely like maybe Native Americans, or Indians from India, people that Christopher Columbus would have confused for Indians if they were not Native Americans or Indians, we can also see that their Hieroglyphs have been removed, which may have something to do with a mass Dispersion after Carthage was destroyed, this Hieroglyph then being drawn before the fall of Carthage, representing the Community that existed in Northern Africa, before the fall of Carthage, we can see these groups as groups that would have been very familiar with Carthage, as well as Egypt, as even Carthage is represented in the Tomb. We can also see Camels next to the right in with people that look similar to Native Americans or people from India, so we can see the Bedouins, and the cultures in the Desert from Egypt to the Kush Mountains, all of these seen in the Depiction of Visitors as descendants of the Achaeans and Phaiakians, as well as from coming from Subsaharan Africa and elsewhere on the continent; who are also associated with the Achaeans and Phaiakians by way of Atlas, Moses, Loki, Neptune, Poseidon, and then Thoth, Mercury, Hermes, Buddha, Buda, Jesus, Enoch. Represented by Echo and Mercury in the Greek myths, as well as Posiedon, Achaean and Phaiakian, and the Greek contact seems to have been Phoenician and Italians to an extent, in the Colonies of Carthage outside of Africa and Spain. We can see Narcissus as associated with the Daffodil, Narcissus is an example of the same culture we can see on Malta with the Dittany of Crete, where the plant itself is Identified with Love, and the Men who went up Dangerous Mountain faces to reach the Flowers were considered greatly compelled by Love, and very Passionate for doing this, as people did die doing this. Once the Greeks pushed out the Phaiakians, we can see that they are retained in the Pan Culture, in Corinth, Arcadia, Megalopolis, Tripoli, the Arcadia League and the Achaean League, Narcissus shows us a Culture of people who knew about Daffodils, the Narcissus flower. And if we look to the meaning of the Word Narcicuss, it has come to mean "Vain" because of the story of him looking at himself in the Pool and falling in Love with himself, but the word means "Narcotic", the Daffodil is a Dream Herb, containing Galantamine, which can be compared to the Snowdrop flower, also found in Greek Records reversed by Atropine, found in Datura, associated with the Goddess Kali. I do not mean to get to confusing with this, but want to explain both of the effects, in the Narcissus Story, we are seeing the Daffodil, containing Galantamine, Narcicuss the word itself meaning "Narcotic", and Galantamine is a Acetylcholine Esterase Inhibitor, to understand this you can look at Nerve Agents, and understand that this is like a much weaker Nerve Agent, and is stimulating your Brain in that way by not being this overactive effect in the Brain. What is happening is your Brain contains Acetylcholine, which is the Molecule that Regulates Dreaming and Thinking in the Brain, the more Acetylcholine, the better off your brain is for Dreaming and Thinking, not that it is not possible without them, but you are much better off with them. Acetylcholine Esterase is a Natural thing in your Body, which eats up all the extra Acetylcholine, so when you have this Esterase in large amounts, it will keep your Acetylcholine levels low. What the Acetylcholine Esterase Inhibitor, lowers the level or removes the Esterase. This then enhances Dreaming and Thinking ability, and can be seen as a group of People that the Greek had in their Society, which they did not like, and they like Daffodils, they may not have understood the Chemical actions of the Daffodil, but they really liked Daffodils, and they were associated with Water, as they would stare into the Water, this may be seen as like the Easter Islanders, building Statues looking out onto the Water, Narcissus is looking out onto the Water waiting for the People who used to come, Neptune, Poseidon, Loki, Moses, looking at the Water for them and knowing a little more about the Water than the Greeks. We can also see Narcissus going to the Mountains and his obsession with Echo, as there calling out to the Achaeans, and this story as the Greeks appreciating the Daffodil, but not understanding the People at all. We can see Narcissus not as Caine with Abel, but the Greeks as Caine, and the Achaeans and Phaiakians as Abel. Echo and the Water are Abel. We then see this told in the Stories of Hebrews fighting people with Foreskins, as well as the Fall of Troy. This is not to say that the Greeks are the only representation of Caine, this is just an example of the same story being told about our History over and over again, all over the World. This is Typhon, the Flood, the Set Animal, Zeus releasing the

Gods from Chronos, the Iron Age beginning and before that the Ice Age ending; the Achaeans being those who built the Prehistoric Stilt Houses in Europe; and the Stories of Caine and Abel, and the Story of Narcissus, being Stories of Vanity, Abel being Vain in the Caine and Abel Story.

If we then look to Khnumhotep II, and the Hieroglyph of the Visitors in Egypt, and the Missing Hieroglyphs, we can see this as Caine killing Abel, we can see these as the people of Abel, offering their Animals. We can see that the name of Khnumhotep contains the name of the God of the Source of the Nile, Khnum, he was thought to be the Creator of the Bodies of Human Children from the Clay of the Nile, we can then see the name of Egypt that the Egyptians called themselves, Kemet, as being about the Clay, and the people being made from the Clay by Khnum, so KMT is maybe associated with Khnum. Egypt, or Aegyptos, comes from Greek (this can best be seen in the Greek word "Obelisk" which is used to Describe the Egyptian Monuments, but in Greek means "Shish-Kabob Stick"), the Egyptians called themselves Kemet, so we can see Khnum in Khnumhotep, as being a God of those of the Nile, Created from the Clay of the Nile, he is the Potter making the People from Clay and we can see him as like the Jewish God (a God like the God of Israel, but Kemet) Kemet itself meaning "The Black Land", so we can assume these people were Black, and can see them represented today largely in the Cushitic peoples, as far as the Cushitic Empire of Egypt, and other groups as having come in and taking over the Northern Part of the Nile, never really changing too much about the Southern part of the Nile. He appears in the Famine Stella, which brings us directly back to Joseph. So now we see a Semitic Visitor in Egypt, at the same time as we are seeing Khnum on the Famine Stella, so we can then begin to make foundational connections between Joseph in the Bible, and Imhotep in the Bible. This is not to say that they are the same person, but Imhotep is a very important person in Ancient Egypt, and central to the Famine Stella. The Famine Stella tells a story of Imhotep, who invented Pyramids, Stairs, Columns, Medicine and Surgery, the Story is of a 7 year Famine, and like Joseph in the Bible, Imhotep is the Vizier to the King, working in Par'Oh, the Palace, the Viziers can be seen as Religious Governors of the 2 Kingdoms of Egypt, and we can see this as opposed to the Akhenaten Framework, which was a Non-Religious Government in Egyptian terms, and was much more like an Emperor, we can then see that this is what King Tut brought back, we can see Akhenaten as having been like the fall of Carthage, removing Gods from the Walls and Replacing them with Aten. Joseph is a Religious Governor of one of the Kingdoms, like Imhotep, and they are both meant to interpret the King's Dreams, and solve problems like Famines. We often see Joseph and Imhotep as compared, but it could be that after an event like Akhenaten, who like caused a Famine or other Problems by shutting down the

Religious Mystery Schools of Ancient Egypt, Ahkenaten basically represents a person coming in and removing the Old Religion, shutting down the actual People of Egypt, in the name of a said "Supreme Deity" to replace all others and not just Rule over them. We can see Famines as being just like this, Ahkenaten caused problems, causing things like Famines because the Nileometer was not operating, the Priests of Sheshat, and Hathor are not being properly recognized, the Sphinx, Bathsheeba, Culture is not being respected. Aten replacing all other Gods, as a Emperor around 1350 BC that he had nothing more to gain from anyone outside the Palace, unless he chose to let them offer it, in the name of Aten. At the end of Akhenaten's Reign of the Supreme Deity, we can see that King Tut and Horemheb come and reinstate the old Religion, with 2 Viziers over the 2 Kingdoms of Egypt, technically we could see Joseph and Imhotep as representative of these 2 Viziers, or 2 other Viziers who worked together, and one Kingdom had better records of the Solution than the other, or they retained it in Oral Tradition to come out later in the Septuagint. Or, Joseph and Imhotep might have just had the same Jobs, maybe Imhotep looked back to the Ancient work of Joseph to solve the Famine; no different than the Worm Eaten Scrolls retrieved by King Tut. We can see these things as what is shown in Aegyptiaca, if Babyloniaca was an Astrology Book, Aegyptiaca was the Story of Ancient Egypt, told with each event in as much detail as the Famine Stella, or the Biblical Story of Joseph, Aegyptiaca is today the best reference in the Entire World to confirm anything we find in Egypt, Kemet, and really there are only fragments and other people's References to the Work left, but we can see the story in Aegyptiaca told in the Egyptian Religion, and the Changes of Deities throughout the different Kingdoms, and Dynasties, the same way we see the Astrology told in Babyloniaca, or the Greek Myths told in the Zodiac, and the Constellations, the Sky is a Classroom; and the Deities in the Temples of Egypt are things that Naturally call out to Humans, it is as much as part of each Person's mind as it is part of Society and something that will create a Famine, and downfall of Civilization. And Oracles and Eggregores or Threads, as well as Metatron type Entities, Trees of Life, the Tree of Life and each Oracle's Place in the Tree of Life, each Metatron and how Enoch is Metatron. This is visible in the Calendar. Calendar, Claim and Shout, are all related Terms. The Calendar is not Metatron, but it can be seen as a Metatron Equivalent, when properly understood and combined with various Eggregores and Oracles, as well as things like Sarah (Cera), Mercury (Jesus), Neptune (Marilla), etc. The Calendar is not something meant to then be exclusive, or it is not a Metatron Equivalent, a Calendar is a Story of the Sky, and the Gods, and History, this is why we have Dates Correlated to a Place on the Calendar in the Past to point to an event. Jesus is a Metatron Equivalent when viewed properly, Jesus is a Metatron, or easier to understand Jesus is Enoch, or Hermes-Thoth, Heremes Trimegistus throughout the Books of this very Book you are reading now. This is why we see something given to the Corinthians, made for the Corinthians, and for the Romans, made for the Romans, the Philipians, for the Philipians, we see the New Testament telling us all of these Stories, because they are combining these People's deities, Threads, in the Metatron of the New Testament, the Metatron of Jesus making Jesus Enoch and Enoch has become Metatron. We can see the Catholic Church, and Eastern Orthodox Church, and Ethiopian Orthodox Church as either each their own Metatrons, or Parts of a massive Metatron in Jesus; no different than a Calendar is an element of a Metatron as much as it is a Metatron. Aegyptiaca, Babyloniaca, Bibliothecas, Metamorphoses, are elements of a Metatron, are like Calendars, but they are Histories like the Bible, it all comes together as in the Odyssey and Iliad, with things like Champion Systems interwoven in the Framework of the Iliad and Odyssey, this is the Earth and Sea, Language, History, and the Future, Oracles, Eggregore or Threads, together with Sky Maps. That is how you build a new, or awaken an Ancient Metatron or create something larger by merging them. We can see this in the similarities between the origins of the words Nomenclature, "NomNkalator", and Calendar, or Proclaim, or Call, as Adam Naming everything in the Garden of Eden.

The Politics around here work that way, and we are going to go Tripoli, DFW with it, and Tricounty, then Multiregional, all over the State, throughout the Country, the Treaty Zones, and the entire Solar System. We are going to make Money for everyone. The whole Planet is going to watch Texas, and Organize, then we will help everyone along the way. We have connected Electricity to the Sun, through the Light in the Words, like the Emerald Tablets of Thoth connecting the Royal Families, we are using the Electricity and connecting just the whole Electricity to the Sun, everyone through the Light in the Words, it's bigger than the Bible when it started and all that, and it's the same kind of connection.

So we now just put together the structure and there will be Campaigns, I don't pay you $10,000 and you're just supposed to spend that and you owe me, you Build something. Everyone Builds things with the Money they get, and the next group comes in. It's not on you, or for Federal Judges per se, they can be part of it, but this builds like a Political Structure, with more to it. Everyone can have one, and the Porn thing always gets to the random aimless people first, so true to see past the Porn Coins, and the Sex Coins, but the use for those and the Female brands, and then recognize you have to compete with that in Congress, those Men, and we'll do it in every way, and better than the Anarchists, the Chinese don't even know what they are doing they bought it from the Anarchists so we are leading them in many ways also. This is not your place to develop, but the Wallet and Mining, DPoS, PoW through ID, Solar, etc, etc, get into things that can be used by Government, Cities, States, etc. And then we are also known to be doing what Satoshi Nakamoto should be doing, we're doing I mean he released it, we're all making it everything, we just have to get to it like the Internet. If I have a Church Group, of 20, we should be able to do like on HIVE and use an Aggroed type tech and be on an exchange, then more people come in as they do. This all is happening in reverse everyday where nerds give nerds Coins, who had Coins, so we have to just make it to everyone else, it's not Public Sector yet. Though it claims Public Ownership in the way it does, MIT does a lot of Bitcoin for example.

So Gideon, he lived in Idol Worshiping Israelite Territory and he was Visited by an Angel, who was just a Person, the Word is "Melech" and it means both "King" and "Messenger of God" in Hebrew. Angelos is Greek and means like "Messenger from Hades". But Gideon was Visited by a Melech. Then he Tears Down the Ashera Pole and the Baal Shrine, and he Builds an Altar to Sacrifice Animals on. His People wake up in the Morning, and see what he has done, and they name him "Jerubaal" or "Let Baal Contend with him" it means. Now, all the Enemies of the Israelites heard of this Person because all the Israelites were Talking.

Then Gideon calls on all the Israelites to Join him in Battle, and 30,000 Men come, and the Lord says "You have too many Men, if You are Victorious You will not give Credit to the Lord, but You will say You did it Yourselves". So they ask the Group who is Scared and wants to go Home, and 20,000 leave. The Lord says it is still too many, so he says to have them all go to Drink Water and keep only the ones who Lap Water like Dogs. So they have 300 left.

Then the Lord sends Gideon with a Servant to listen to the Amakelites Talk, to Spy on their Camp. And they are Talking about Dreams they are having about Devastation in their Camp, and they think it must be interpreted as Gideon. And so the 300 Men go out with Torches and kind of do a big Pyrotechnics Show, and they Capture the Other Army.

Now, Jews will say "Like Gideon" and they are referring to how that Happened.

Subject: Re: Royal Mysticism

When we look at how God Works there are several Identifiers apart from the Beautiful Sunset or Beauty in General, and the Intelligent Design argument (though it is enough to satisfy a majority of Scientists in the World, who are not Atheists, but Christians, a Majority of Scientists), just as an example Craig Venter is the Guy who Mapped his Genome and a Chimpanzee's and said it's 99% Similar, and regardless of all the Atheists who say DNA cannot be compared to an Intelligently Design Computer Program, Craig Venter says exactly that, that is is like an Intelligently Designed Software that Runs Cellular Hardware.

There are Other Arguments. For example how God follows the Law, Moses and Nemehiah are Examples, as well as Hezekiah. The Judges are by Definition an example of this, a Judge brings the Law and God follows. But so, if we look at Israel under the Judges, they did have Leaders, Judge is oftentimes Translated as "Leader" and some Historians actually say we don't know what a Judge was, but they were like Warlords and they brought the Law. Samson maybe being the most wayward example, and Gideon and Deborah being Great examples. But there were Kings around that Ruled, and in Hebrew the Word "Angel" is "Melech", it means "King". For example there is a guy called AbbaMelech and he is not an Angel as we view it in Modern Terms, his name means "My Father is a King". And there were Kings that Ruled over these Areas, and they kept their Distance and Ruled like God many of them, in God's Pattern, which is what we are getting into hear. We could use the Example of Carthage and say for instance, maybe the Kings were Carthaginian Upper Class. Ruling from Northern Africa. But the way the Phoenicians, the Carthaginians, did it, was to go here and there, say Britain, say Sicily, and sometimes not even go ashore, but send a Small Party Ashore, and sit off the Coast in a Ship. Then Trade and do Business and Leave Glass Making and King David, and Hercules (both killed Giants), Melqart, Thor, etc. and then Leave and Come Back, and Rule that way. And so this is how Jesus and in some ways we could say Buddha, Rule. Buddha is symbolized by an Empty Throne, or Footprints. Jesus is the King who Rose and Rules from Heaven, his Gospel being a Guide to bring his Kingdom to Earth. So we can be like Polybius and say like "The Ancient were rash in introducing Heaven and hell to the Peasantry to control them, they shouldn't have released that into the World even if they needed a way to control them". Or we can look at how this Works, the Pattern of how God Rules over us. And You could ask "Does any of it matter, or even exist" and the way the Greeks kind of understood it as they would say Jesus was the Word, is like "You believe Words exist don't You?".

If there are Churches talking about Samuel and things, it's not bad to go to Gideon next, and Samson. The Judges like Samuel, then also Kings and Chronicles. Then if they want they can like talk about the 300 from Sparta and Nehmehiah and stuff. But so then the Bible, and we need to talk about this. So Esther is in Susa and things, and she is Jewish, in Esther they convert People from Cush to the Kush Mountains. So then Job is Persian, a Persian Jew. And Daniel comes later, but maybe Daniel should go with the Judges and Kings because that happened like kind of in the Nemehiah Times, the Persian King like Exiles the Jews and that's Daniel, then they end up back there and are like then Rebuilding the Temple and someone doesn't like it, and they go to the King's Court after the Daniel stuff had gotten them released, and the King is like "They can do it" and sends them to build it so then they are building it and trying to figure out Moses and things again. Solomon is long gone, and People are afraid they want a King.

Then Job is kind of after all that, but not in the Books it's not it is put before Daniel with Esther, because Job is Persian.

So then Daniel and things and then it goes back to like Lamentations and Psalms and Proverbs, so back again to like David and Solomon.

Then so like that was the Septuagint and it's updates, Enoch goes with that, Macabees goes with that and things, so there are actually more Books than like the King James and New whatever Version. So there are those extra ones. And then Jesus comes, and if he didn't it would just be a collection of Books, where Alexander and Ptolemy recognized the importance, but Aristotle and the Classical Age did not. That gets to like Aristotles Books which are foundational to the Classical Age, Physics, Metaphysics, Classification and these Books. Then Jesus comes and the Romans have taken over by then, and they think they figured it all out, and an Ancient Jewish Royal Bloodline comes into Question so Pilate brings him in and asks him, "Are you a King?".

The Haplogroup Map of Modern Science actually helps us understand what the Table of Nations in the Bible is Talking about. It Talks about not eating Pigs and now we know they have Worms and Pork has to be Cooked at a Higher Temp for at least a short Time, etc, etc.

And then it Documents something else, actions of God and connections to the afterlife, Facilitated by Angels. And until I revealed Everything to the World about Head Cones and Punic Wax and the Dew of Harmon, and the Midwives, and Anhur-Shu, and the Phaiakians, and corrected Ptolemy in his mistakes about Wadjet, so now we can understand the Djed, all of this helping to make sense of Practices like Ukhuphala, Ancient Talismans having Wax, Gris-Gris, Delos, Hephaestus and the Pirates, etc, etc. before I did all of this Angels seemed like an otherworldly entity, it was like “We heard about Nephilim in those Days, but are they around Today?” And we all knew there were Angels in the Bible, but we all wouldn’t maybe have known that in Gideon an Angel appears in the Flesh, and Enoch is named as a Human and he becomes the Angel Metatron, etc. most of us missed those kinds of Things. Everyone knew Goliath was a Giant, and they said “Maybe the Lineage came from Alien Breeding Programs? Angels fly around in UFOs maybe?”.

That’s where the World was before I Wrote a Book about Angels and began Teaching Specifically about this, my Heritage.

And I just want to say, Jews are Real, they exist, from the Book. Israel, You dig and it’s there. And also, same with Mt. Hermon. The Angels were Recorded in the Jewish Scriptures and it is not some impossible to understand fine Mist that is only visible if there is a Fog in the Air and the Sun is just right, or anything like that. It’s the Land of Cush and Put from Genesis in the Bible. Anhur-Shu (the Royal Military) and the Sphynx. Wax Head Cones and Kyphi.

Subject: Re: Korea

Some may wonder, “How did all of this Happen?”, and the Answer is that under Atlas there was a Royal Military, a kind of example would be Sisera from the Bible, and the Angel that comes to Gideon. But in the Records of Egypt and Canaan it is the Worshippers of Anhur or Anhur-Shu. And this is the Royal Military, not exactly like the Praetorian Guard, or the Swiss Guard at the Vatican, or the British Royal Guard, but Similar to that. The Difference being that they were the Royals and the Military, a Military of Military Blood, in the Ancient World, breeding for Wars, etc, and led by a kind of Military Monarchy, the Royal Military.

And so You might look at how it Worked to Learn more, and we can Talk about how there were Sudans and Porters, as part of the Royal Military, People Carrying the Royal Family. And You might ask how exactly that Works, because now if we identify that this is the Angelic Fall, this is the Angels that Fell and Bred with Human Women and Created the Giants that come later (Goliath and Gigantomachy), and we look at the Fact that it seems that there is somehow a Distinction between the Royal Military and who they are Carrying. But this comes from the meaning of Anhur, his very Name and Purpose as a God tells us how it had been Working. The Royal Military in Egypt and Canaan would Marry Women from Cush, from Nubia, and bring them to Egypt and Canaan. And then for example Nimrod, a Great Hunter and probably Sargon of Akkad and his Dynasty (The First Emperor), "Son of Cush". Nimrod Son of Cush.

This is what we are doing, but a Neolithic Temple Culture type World Map of Currencies, with the Angel Airdrop ICOs, and we are Reinstating an Atlantian Network.

<https://bitcointalk.org/index.php?topic=5289188.0>

Here is good way to describe how the Beauty Economy is being Built,

If you watch a thing or read about how NABISCO, like Oreos, were made, the creator was like a Rosecrucian and Candies and Confections were like the Cottage Industry to Industry of the Day, like Girl Scout Cookies type Industry. So they decided that this Symbolism on the Cookies, the Double Crosses, and all the Sacred Geometry, like Cryptology, Symbols, etc, that was part of the whole thing.

And we are doing that, with Currency, that's how Currencies are supposed to Work, this is what Cryptocurrency is missing.

What we have done is this, we have identified the Phoenix, the Phaiakians, the Lineage of Angels, made sense of all the "Biblical Giants" talk, the Flood, and we have then identified the Light as the Ancestors. We have identified Light, Gravity and the other invisible Forces within and outside of us, then we have gone another level and awakened Titans. The Light is a Titan, as an Ancestor, and King Atlas. What this is saying, is that through Lineage, we can all see our Ancestry in Atlas and Theia/Wadjet, then Zeus is Minoan and Crete Civilization, and the Gods emerge from there as a lower level, Poiseidon and the Phaiakians having access to the higher Gods, Titans. So Poiseidon, and Hades being Zeus equals in their Domain, both Poiseidon and Hades are other Cultures Gods, and the Greeks worship Zeus, the Italians largely adopt theirs but are Historically more Advanced during Hellenization with Carthaginian Colonies. We can also see a Phoenician Empire and Egyptian Empire before Rome.

Right now there are, and over the next year there will be Discoveries and Doctors made based on my Writings, and as everyone realizes Biblical Angelic beings are on Earth today, we will already be Announcing who we are.

As we Launch this Currency we will be looking for Evidences of the Phaiakians and the Apollonic Culture like Nazis did Aryans, proving the out of Africa Theory. So what we will be doing will be like the Founding Fathers founding this Nation, or any Nation, Quetzlcoatl is the Eagle and Snake on the Mexican Flag. This then will create not Bitcoin and Litecoin and Ethereum Clubs, but the Future.

Written about a Blockchain whose Dev disappeared, YouStocks is a good model though:

Marijuana costs more than Silver. Silver is 50 Cents a Gram, about $15 an Oz.

Just so everyone knows, the price of a Currency is largely based on the value the people holding it put on it. For example, the Aura community is right now talking about Aura being $3.00 each, and they are basing that on the price of Mining (Electricity) and other Factors. But because they are saying $3.00, and not $1.00, or $0.25 Cents, that means that many of them will save more until it gets that high.

So starting off there may be people willing to sell some for $0.01 or less and those may even be the same people who want to sell it for $3.00, and if it is the same people, they will sell only a small amount for $0.01 each, and they will save a bulk of it for later sales. And because they are limiting what they are releasing, and they are the ones Mining it, that means that the Price will go up, because there will be a limited supply. If they are only willing to sell a limited amount for $0.01, and there are a lot of people who want to buy it at $0.01, then the people willing to buy it will end up having to give in and buy it at $0.02 and $0.05, and eventually $0.25 and $1.00, then eventually $3.00.

If it were $3.00 each, that would put the Market Cap at $36,000,000 because there are only 12,000,000 coins, and a $36,000,000 Market Cap is not going to be hard to reach once the dApps start being released. So $3.00 is extremely possible, and will most likely happen within the first few months even. And I assume that it will go up to $10.00 within the first year. And it will probably easily go into the Hundreds of Millions of Dollars in Market Cap, and we will all make tons of Money and we will have a whole series of Blockchains by then, that have their own Websites like Steemit attached.

But because everyone Mining believes it should be $3.00, that means it will get there pretty easily. And that also means that there will be a large Dump of Coins at $3.00; because they will be waiting to Dump at $3.00. But if you weather it, and buy instead of selling when it goes down to $2.50, etc, then you will make a ton more money. and again, we will have a few other Blockchains and other Capital going back and forth by then.

When we look at how God Works there are several Identifiers apart from the Beautiful Sunset or Beauty in General, and the Intelligent Design argument (though it is enough to satisfy a majority of Scientists in the World, who are not Atheists, but Christians, a Majority of Scientists), just as an example Craig Venter is the Guy who Mapped his Genome and a Chimpanzee's and said it's 99% Similar, and regardless of all the Atheists who say DNA cannot be compared to an Intelligently Design Computer Program, Craig Venter says exactly that, that is is like an Intelligently Designed Software that Runs Cellular Hardware.

There are Other Arguments. For example how God follows the Law, Moses and Nemehiah are Examples, as well as Hezekiah. The Judges are by Definition an example of this, a Judge brings the Law and God follows. But so, if we look at Israel under the Judges, they did have Leaders, Judge is oftentimes Translated as "Leader" and some Historians actually say we don't know what a Judge was, but they were like Warlords and they brought the Law. Samson maybe being the most wayward example, and Gideon and Deborah being Great examples. But there were Kings around that Ruled, and in Hebrew the Word "Angel" is "Melech", it means "King". For example there is a guy called AbbaMelech and he is not an Angel as we view it in Modern Terms, his name means "My Father is a King". And there were Kings that Ruled over these Areas, and they kept their Distance and Ruled like God many of them, in God's Pattern, which is what we are getting into hear. We could use the Example of Carthage and say for instance, maybe the Kings were Carthaginian Upper Class. Ruling from Northern Africa. But the way the Phoenicians, the Carthaginians, did it, was to go here and there, say Britain, say Sicily, and sometimes not even go ashore, but send a Small Party Ashore, and sit off the Coast in a Ship. Then Trade and do Business and Leave Glass Making and King David, and Hercules (both killed Giants), Melqart, Thor, etc. and then Leave and Come Back, and Rule that way. And so this is how Jesus and in some ways we could say Buddha, Rule. Buddha is symbolized by an Empty Throne, or Footprints. Jesus is the King who Rose and Rules from Heaven, his Gospel being a Guide to bring his Kingdom to Earth. So we can be like Polybius and say like "The Ancient were rash in introducing Heaven and hell to the Peasantry to control them, they shouldn't have released that into the World even if they needed a way to control them". Or we can look at how this Works, the Pattern of how God Rules over us. And You could ask "Does any of it matter, or even exist" and the way the Greeks kind of understood it as they would say Jesus was the Word, is like "You believe Words exist don't You?".

26 U.S. Code § 5042

(a) Tax-free production

(1) Cider

Subject to regulations prescribed by the Secretary, the noneffervescent (no-bubbles) product of the normal alcoholic fermentation of apple juice only, which is produced at a place other than a bonded wine cellar and without the use of preservative methods or materials, and which is sold or offered for sale as cider and not as wine or as a substitute for wine, shall not be subject to tax as wine nor to the provisions of subchapter F.

The Volstead Act (1920)

Officially titled the National Prohibition Act

"Nothing in this title shall be held to apply to the manufacture, sale, transportation, importation, possession, or distribution of wine for sacramental purposes, or like religious rites"

"The Roman Catholic Church has been recognized as possessing legal personality by the Treaty of Paris with Spain of 1898, and its property rights solemnly safeguarded. In so doing, the treaty followed the recognized rule of international law which would have protected the property of the church in Porto Rico subsequent to the cession. The juristic personality of the Roman Catholic Church and its ownership of property was formally recognized by the concordat between Spain and the papacy and by the Spanish laws from the beginning of settlements in the Indies. Such recognition has also been accorded the church by all systems of European law from the fourth century of the Christian era.

The fact that a municipality in Porto Rico furnished some of the funds for building or repairing the churches cannot affect the title of the Roman Catholic Church, to whom such funds were thus irrevocably donated and by whom these temples were erected and dedicated to religious uses."

"...He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil Power..."

The 2nd Amendment:

"A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed."

George Washington

June 11th, 1780

Springfield

TO THE COMMITTEE OF COÖPERATION

"There can now remain no doubt that Charlestown and its garrison have fallen. There is every reason to believe that Sir Henry Clinton, with the whole or the greatest part of his force, will shortly arrive in New York. The expectation of the French fleet and army will certainly determine the enemy to unite their force. General Knyphausen still continues in the Jerseys with all the force which can be spared from New York; a force greatly superior to ours. Should Sir Henry join him the superiority will be decided, and equal to almost any thing the enemy may think proper to attempt. It is true they are at this time inactive, but their continuance where they are proves that they have some project of importance in contemplation. Perhaps they are only waiting till the militia grow tired and return home (which they are doing every hour) to prosecute their designs with less opposition. This would be a critical moment for us. Perhaps they are waiting the arrival of Sir Henry Clinton, either to push up the North River against the Highland posts or to bend their whole force against the army. In either case the most disastrous consequences are to be apprehended. You who are well acquainted with our situation need no arguments to evince the danger. The militia of this State have run to arms and behaved with an ardor and spirit of which there are few examples. But perseverance in enduring the rigors of military service is not to be expected from those who are not by profession obliged to it. The reverse of this opinion has been a great misfortune in our affairs, and it is high time we should recover from an error [312] of so pernicious a nature. We must absolutely have a force of a different composition, or we must relinquish the contest. In a few days we may expect to have to depend almost wholly on our Continental force, and this (from your own observation) is totally inadequate to our safety. The exigency calls loudly upon the States to carry all the recommendations of the Committee into the most vigorous and immediate execution, but more particularly that of completing our battalions by a draft, and with all the expedition possible."

George Washington

25th June, 1780

Whippany

TO THE PRESIDENT OF CONGRESS.

"The late movements of the Enemy seem to have no satisfactory solution but an enterprise against West Point. Our last advices look strongly to the same object, yet there are many powerful reasons against it. But as we are now in a great degree rid of the incumbrance of our stores by the measures taken to remove them, prudence demands that our dispositions should be principally relative to West Point.¹ We shall do every thing in our power for its [322] security; and, in spite of the peculiar embarrassments of our situation, I hope not without success. The enemy have not made their incursions into this State without loss. Ours has been small. The militia deserve every thing that can be said on both occasions. They flew to arms universally, and acted with a spirit equal to any thing I have seen in the course of the war. With every sentiment of respect I have the honor to be, &c."

The Federalist Papers, "Concerning the Militia"

http://avalon.law.yale.edu/18th_century/fed29.asp

" It is, therefore, with the most evident propriety, that the plan of the convention proposes to empower the Union "to provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, RESERVING TO THE STATES RESPECTIVELY THE APPOINTMENT OF THE OFFICERS, AND THE AUTHORITY OF TRAINING THE MILITIA ACCORDING TO THE DISCIPLINE PRESCRIBED BY CONGRESS.'

If standing armies are dangerous to liberty, an efficacious power over the militia, in the body to whose care the protection of the State is committed, ought, as far as possible, to take away the inducement and the pretext to such unfriendly institutions. If the federal government can command the aid of the militia in those emergencies which call for the military arm in support of the civil magistrate, it can the better dispense with the employment of a different kind of force. If it cannot avail itself of the former, it will be obliged to recur to the latter. To render an army unnecessary, will be a more certain method of preventing its existence than a thousand prohibitions upon paper.

In order to cast an odium upon the power of calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, it has been remarked that there is nowhere any provision in the proposed Constitution for calling out the POSSE COMITATUS, to assist the magistrate in the execution of his duty, whence it has been inferred, that military force was intended to be his only auxiliary. There is a striking incoherence in the objections which have appeared, and sometimes even from the same quarter, not much calculated to inspire a very favorable opinion of the sincerity or fair dealing of their authors. The same persons who tell us in one breath, that the powers of the federal government will be despotic and unlimited, inform us in the next, that it has not authority sufficient even to call out the POSSE COMITATUS. The latter, fortunately, is as much short of the truth as the former exceeds it. It would be as absurd to doubt, that a right to pass all laws NECESSARY AND PROPER to execute its declared powers, would include that of requiring the assistance of the citizens to the officers who may be intrusted with the execution of those laws, as it would be to believe, that a right to enact laws necessary and proper for the imposition and collection of taxes would involve that of varying the rules of descent and of the alienation of landed property, or of abolishing the trial by jury in cases relating to it. It being therefore evident that the supposition of a want of power to require the aid of the POSSE COMITATUS is entirely destitute of color, it will follow, that the conclusion which has been drawn from it, in its application to the authority of the federal government over the militia, is as uncandid as it is illogical. What reason could there be to infer, that force was intended to be the sole instrument of authority, merely because there is a power to make use of it when necessary? What shall we think of the motives which could induce men of sense to reason in this manner? How shall we prevent a conflict between charity and judgment?

By a curious refinement upon the spirit of republican jealousy, we are even taught to apprehend danger from the militia itself, in the hands of the federal government. It is observed that select corps may be formed, composed of the young and ardent, who may be rendered subservient to the views of arbitrary power. What plan for the regulation of the militia may be pursued by the national government, is impossible to be foreseen. But so far from viewing the matter in the same light with those who object to select corps as dangerous, were the Constitution ratified, and were I to deliver my sentiments to a member of the federal legislature from this State on the subject of a militia establishment, I should hold to him, in substance, the following discourse:

"The project of disciplining all the militia of the United States is as futile as it would be injurious, if it were capable of being carried into execution. A tolerable expertness in military movements is a business that requires time and practice. It is not a day, or even a week, that will suffice for the attainment of it. To oblige the great body of the yeomanry, and of the other classes of the citizens, to be under arms for the purpose of going through military exercises and evolutions, as often as might be necessary to acquire the degree of perfection which would entitle them to the character of a well-regulated militia, would be a real grievance to the people, and a serious public inconvenience and loss. It would form an annual deduction from the productive labor of the country, to an amount which, calculating upon the present numbers of the people, would not fall far short of the whole expense of the civil establishments of all the States. To attempt a thing which would abridge the mass of labor and industry to so considerable an extent, would be unwise: and the experiment, if made, could not succeed, because it would not long be endured. Little more can reasonably be aimed at, with respect to the people at large, than to have them properly armed and equipped; and in order to see that this be not neglected, it will be necessary to assemble them once or twice in the course of a year.

"But though the scheme of disciplining the whole nation must be abandoned as mischievous or impracticable; yet it is a matter of the utmost importance that a well-digested plan should, as soon as possible, be adopted for the proper establishment of the militia. The attention of the government ought particularly to be directed to the formation of a select corps of moderate extent, upon such principles as will really fit them for service in case of need. By thus circumscribing the plan, it will be possible to have an excellent body of well-trained militia, ready to take the field whenever the defense of the State shall require it.

This is why Meso-America and Meso-potamian look similar enough to have gotten the same name.

Imagine having a Democracy for 3,000 Years. There would be some Bush Families and some Kennedys. And we would forget a lot of People, like not Everyone at CNN and Fox News are running to Ask John Hancock's Great Grandchildren, or George Washington's, or Benjamin Franklin's. And this happened when Dynasties Ended with Assassinations and whatnot, but Egypt and Pre-Sargonic to Sargonic Canaan or Mesopotamia, these Places were Ruled by Royal Families for Thousands of Years.

When Democracy happens like Hunter Biden might get some Pussy because his last name is Biden, in these Thousand Year Kingdoms there was actually the Breeding of kind of Leadership. Royalty was bred into the Blood, like say being a Minister or Politician is. And in Secular Governance there is still the Ancient Pattern, the First Estate being the Clergy, the Media being the lowly 4th Estate, but still “get to be here”.

What is going on is that the Jews Recorded this in their Bible, and now I’ve shown Everyone, and You all are arguing like I’m a Christian. It’s not my Book, it’s just all about me. I’m a Hindu, I had no idea my Religion was a Genetic Royalty Thing, I was just fighting for Religious Marijuana in Court, I never intended to have the Capability to overthrow a State. But looking back at who I was during Ferguson, and as Bitcoin Started (The Bitcoin Town stuff), it was always being planned. It didn’t just fall in my Lap, it was a lot of Work to get here.

The Jewish Years in Egypt between Joseph and Moses are described by Ezekiel here:

Ezekiel 23:

23 :1The word of the Lord came to me: 2 “Son of man, there were two women, daughters of the same mother. 3 They became prostitutes in Egypt, engaging in prostitution from their youth. In that land their breasts were fondled and their virgin bosoms caressed. 4 The older was named Oholah, and her sister was Oholibah. They were mine and gave birth to sons and daughters. Oholah is Samaria, and Oholibah is Jerusalem.

5 “Oholah engaged in prostitution while she was still mine; and she lusted after her lovers, the Assyrians—warriors 6 clothed in blue, governors and commanders, all of them handsome young men, and mounted horsemen. 7 She gave herself as a prostitute to all the elite of the Assyrians and defiled herself with all the idols of everyone she lusted after. 8 She did not give up the prostitution she began in Egypt, when during her youth men slept with her, caressed her virgin bosom and poured out their lust on her.

9 “Therefore I delivered her into the hands of her lovers, the Assyrians, for whom she lusted. 10 They stripped her naked, took away her sons and daughters and killed her with the sword. She became a byword among women, and punishment was inflicted on her.

11 “Her sister Oholibah saw this, yet in her lust and prostitution she was more depraved than her sister. 12 She too lusted after the Assyrians—governors and commanders, warriors in full dress, mounted horsemen, all handsome young men. 13 I saw that she too defiled herself; both of them went the same way.

14 “But she carried her prostitution still further. She saw men portrayed on a wall, figures of Chaldeans^[a] portrayed in red, 15 with belts around their waists and flowing turbans on their heads; all of them looked like Babylonian chariot officers, natives of Chaldea.^[b] 16 As soon as she saw them, she lusted after them and sent messengers to them in Chaldea. 17 Then the Babylonians came to her, to the bed of love, and in their lust they defiled her. After she had been defiled by them, she turned away from them in disgust. 18 When she carried on her prostitution openly and exposed her naked body, I turned away from her in disgust, just as I had turned away from her sister. 19 Yet she became more and more promiscuous as she recalled the days of her youth, when she was a prostitute in Egypt. 20 There she lusted after her lovers, whose genitals were like those of donkeys and whose emission was like that of horses. 21 So you longed for the lewdness of your youth, when in Egypt your bosom was caressed and your young breasts fondled.^[c]

22 “Therefore, Oholibah, this is what the Sovereign Lord says: I will stir up your lovers against you, those you turned away from in disgust, and I will bring them against you from every side— 23 the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, the men of Pekod and Shoa and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them, handsome young men, all of them governors and commanders, chariot officers and men of high rank, all mounted on horses. 24 They will come against you with weapons,^[d] chariots and wagons and with a throng of people; they will take up positions against you on every side with large and small shields and with helmets. I will turn you over to them for punishment, and they will punish you according to their standards. 25 I will direct my jealous anger against you, and they will deal with you in fury. They will cut off your noses and your ears, and those of you who are left will fall by the sword. They will take away your sons and daughters, and those of you who are left will be consumed by fire. 26 They will also strip you of your clothes and take your fine jewelry. 27 So I will put a stop to the lewdness and prostitution you began in Egypt. You will not look on these things with longing or remember Egypt anymore.

28 “For this is what the Sovereign Lord says: I am about to deliver you into the hands of those you hate, to those you turned away from in disgust. 29 They will deal with you in hatred and take away everything you have worked for. They will leave you stark naked, and the shame of your prostitution will be exposed. Your lewdness and promiscuity 30 have brought this on you, because you lusted after the nations and defiled yourself with their idols. 31 You have gone the way of your sister; so I will put her cup into your hand.

32 “This is what the Sovereign Lord says:

“You will drink your sister’s cup,
a cup large and deep;
it will bring scorn and derision,
for it holds so much.

33 You will be filled with drunkenness and sorrow,
the cup of ruin and desolation,
the cup of your sister Samaria.

34 You will drink it and drain it dry and chew on its pieces—and you will tear your breasts.

I have spoken, declares the Sovereign Lord.

35 “Therefore this is what the Sovereign Lord says: Since you have forgotten me and turned your back on me, you must bear the consequences of your lewdness and prostitution.”

36 The Lord said to me: “Son of man, will you judge Oholah and Oholibah? Then confront them with their detestable practices, 37 for they have committed adultery and blood is on their hands. They committed adultery with their idols; they even sacrificed their children, whom they bore to me, as food for them. 38 They have also done this to me: At that same time they defiled my sanctuary and desecrated my Sabbaths.39 On the very day they sacrificed their children to their idols, they entered my sanctuary and desecrated it. That is what they did in my house.

40 "They even sent messengers for men who came from far away, and when they arrived you bathed yourself for them, applied eye makeup and put on your jewelry. 41 You sat on an elegant couch, with a table spread before it on which you had placed the incense and olive oil that belonged to me.

42 "The noise of a carefree crowd was around her; drunkards were brought from the desert along with men from the rabble, and they put bracelets on the wrists of the woman and her sister and beautiful crowns on their heads.43 Then I said about the one worn out by adultery, 'Now let them use her as a prostitute, for that is all she is.' 44 And they slept with her. As men sleep with a prostitute, so they slept with those lewd women, Oholah and Oholibah.45 But righteous judges will sentence them to the punishment of women who commit adultery and shed blood, because they are adulterous and blood is on their hands.

46 "This is what the Sovereign Lord says: Bring a mob against them and give them over to terror and plunder. 47 The mob will stone them and cut them down with their swords; they will kill their sons and daughters and burn down their houses.

48 "So I will put an end to lewdness in the land, that all women may take warning and not imitate you. 49 You will suffer the penalty for your lewdness and bear the consequences of your sins of idolatry. Then you will know that I am the Sovereign Lord."

To understand Atlantis we can look at Plato's Timaeus and go from there. In Plato's Timaeus he states that the Goddess came and founded Athens, and that the Atlanteans at that Time were with the Goddess and they taught the Greeks to carry Spears and Shields. So, just on its face we can look at that and see that maybe he is talking about People that came from Africa, and he is. If we look at the History of Athens it was not always Greek, Athens was first Ruled by Midwives, from Sais, Egypt. Athens is actually a Colony. Now, this gets into something that People argue about which is "Did Africa Colonize Europe, or Did Europe Colonize Africa" and the argument kind of gets into whether Africa or Europe was Smarter First, able to Colonize the other one. But there is some Evidence that Sais itself in Egypt was part of a Colony, and that the Sea People were the original Colonizers and were returning maybe 10,000 Years Later. Plato actually got his Story of Atlantis from Sais, from a member of the Temple of Neith. Conchas of Sais.

So why is this so hard to put together You might ask. The reason is because of the Scale of Time. What it seems happened is that around 75,000 BC there was the Toba Catastrophe and Homosapien Populations made their way along the Coast to India from Africa. Then, around 40,000 BC it seems that someone made it back to Africa, and then many Others followed, around 40,000 BC there is a return to Africa, a rekindling of the connections between all Humans. Then this what we are Talking about with Atlantis all happened Closer to 10,000-15,000 BC with the Founding of Athens. With the Founding of Athens being important You can look at the Tapestry Woven by Arachne showing Zeus Raping Women as being kind of a History of Athens, Athens used to be connected to the Culture Zeus Raped.

So then I personally made some Discoveries about Egypt that moved all of this Forward. In 2019 there was a Wax Headcone unEarthed. Before this there were images of People wearing Wax Headcones, but no one knew exactly what it was because they had never dug one up, there were only images on the Walls of Egypt indicating that there was some kind of Cone that they would wear on their Heads, and it looked like Wax or something. So once that Headcone was Discovered, I put together that the Wax Headcones are the Dew of Harmon, or Punic Wax, basically Saponified Wax, it's Soap, Wax made into Soap. Then I noticed that there was a Hieroglyph that was much like the Loaf (the "T" Hieroglyph which means "Give"), and I noticed that the God Serapis is wearing on his head the Bowl You would use to make the Soap. And his name is Sera-pis, "Sera" being the Latin Word for "Wax". But Strangely, I noticed that this was the same Symbol used for Hercules Shield. Hercules Shield is shown from the side, laying Down, as like a Wax Loaf, and it is called "Cadmus" or "Kadmos". Hercules Shield actually carries in it a more Ancient Symbolism, because what Cadmos or Cadmus is, is the Great Gods of Samothrace, Kadmilos.

So this brought some understanding as it is related to Slavery, and it kind of opened an entire understanding of the Development of the Ancient World. The concept being that Slaves were working to build something for themselves, and the way this would Work is that my People, the Phaiakians, before we were the Phoenicians, we would go out to Britain, or Greece, or Italy, and we would enslave People, so they could build something for themselves. Many of the Slaves were Stone Workers, this is why the Greeks and the Etruscans, etc, were all such Good Stone Workers, they were our Stone Slaves. Later they became the Modern "Free Masons", the Free Masons were Originally our Stone Slaves. They weren't always Free. So they would be Slaves, and we would actually institute a King of the Slaves, and then we would Leave and it would be their Kingdom that they built for themselves, and we would come back and Trade with them and Things. This then is what is meant when Jesus is called a "King of Kings", it's not just a nice Name, we actually were the Kings of Everyone's Kings. Troy is an Example, Roy means "King", like Royal, like Vice-Roy, like the name "Leeroy" being from the French "Le Roy" meaning, "The King". T-Roy, was a City of Kings. Kings of the World. And it Starts with a T-, the Letter "T" can actually be used to Trace some Things then. Titans, Tyrants, Time, etc.

So this is what was going on. And that is what Hercules' Shield is about.

So the People that were in Athens, were from Sais. The People from Sais were supposedly from Europe sometime around 10,000 BC. We can look at Stilt Houses from Punt, and they also existed in Switzerland around the Alps. And we can Follow the Path of Hercules across the Alps (the Story goes that Hercules and the Argonauts Carry a Boat over the Mountains) through Italy. And we are Talking Tens of Thousands of Years ago is what these Myths are about, but something Really did happen. After Homer wrote his Books, "the Odyssey" and "the Iliad", someone else was like "Wait, wait" and wrote one called "The Heroes before Achilles" explaining events before Homer's Books, like a Prequel.

Then connected to Athens and Sais was an Island called Delos, Delos was kind of like the Athens before Athens, an Island that is now just some Privately Owned Island, but it was in the Ancient World the Center of all Trade, Hosted by the Midwives of Sais. It was said that the Sun and the Moon were Born there, that is what it is known for that made it a Center of Trade and Travel, etc. Like Mecca to the Greek and Pre-Greek World. There is also the Island of Scheria that should be mentioned, as it is usually identified as Atlantis, and Crete and the Minotaur's Maze should also be mentioned, as this was all connected. There was an Entire Empire they never taught us about between Egypt and Greece/Rome, there was the Phoenicians. Ruling over Africa and Europe.

So back to Egypt, we can look at the Book "Apollonius of Tyanna" by Philostratus as being about this same stuff. He talks about how the Aethiopians come from the Indi, he's Talking about 40,000 Years ago. There is no connection between like Somalians and Ethiopians and India, unless we go back 40,000 Years or so, and that is what Philostratus somehow had gleaned from somewhere. The Atlantic and the Indian Ocean used to be collectively known as "The Aethiopian Sea". And I wanted to know what Moses was Talking about when he said that his People were Slaves in Egypt, and that they had Previously been in the Israel Region. I could see that the Sea People were the only ever Slaves in Egypt. Then I found Fayum in Egypt, and it just struck me as like, You know how in a City there will be "China Town" or like "Little Cuba" or "Little Mexico" as a kind of Neighborhood in the City, Fayum struck me as "Little Atlantis". And if we look at Fayum we can actually see Evidence of Slavery, it seems that they advanced very quickly, and if it were Little Atlantis this would actually make the Slavery fit better for 2 Reasons: 1. If it were Little Atlantis, it is possible that the Sea People/Jews knew the Slave Holders from Fayum from Atlantean Times, which would make it kind of a more Friendly interaction. 2. They were Building it for themselves, as is the Tradition, so they would be Building Little Atlantis. It makes sense that they would be Slaves there. So then I looked for a Candidate to be Moses' Mother with Ramseses, just to see if it could be matched with the Bible, and there was an Immediate Candidate. Maathorneferure. This would mean that "Found in the Reeds" was kind of Gossip, and that Moses Levite Father was the Pharaoh. This would make Pharaoh a Levite, which makes sense because the Egyptian upper Class did all Circumcised and it is possible that Moses actually took that from Egypt, but it could be the other way around that Abraham Started it and Egyptian upper Class Adopted it. Either way.

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Maathorneferure>

There is more to be said about the Wax Soap (which was also widely used as Paint), and the Headcones, and the Letter "T", even getting into the Cross and the Bronze Serpent Moses held up, etc. But I have done that Previously with Pictures if Everyone can share it with each other. I do think it is important to note though, that the "Give!" concept and the Great Gods of Samothrace, these kind of combine in our Modern idea of the Cobbler Elves, where the Shoe Cobbler Leaves out Materials to make Shoes, and Every Night some Elves come and make Shoes for him and he Starts getting Wealthy, then he leaves them Clothes and they are Free somehow because he Clothed them, it is like Harry Potter with Dobby where he gives him a Piece of Clothing and he is Free from House Elf Slavery, this is the Concept of the Great Gods of Samothrace in Cadmus and Things. This all then ties back to Jesus and Mary Magdalene at Galilee. Solomon gives Galilee to another King as a Gift, and the Other

King says "What kind of Towns are these that You have given me?". Then the Bible says that there was 1 Town that was "Head of all those Kingdoms" on one side of Galilee. And we can look at Dea Syria and Hadid, the "Gods who Listen to Prayers". Then Dea Syria is a Fish Goddess of a Lake, associated with Perfume (Jesus Sells Perfume, and he is "The Christ" which is related to Perfumery) and Things, which goes back to the Sphynx Temples that were Built by Lakes in Egypt, as like by Fayum, where there are Pink Sphynx Statues. The Sphynx Temple becomes the Fish Temple near Israel.

And I suggest that Everyone Read the Emerald Tablets of Thoth, which are not Ancient, they are from the last Millenium, but they claim to be Written by Thoth, the Egyptian God, but he is called "Thoth the Atlantean".

The Sea People are the only known Slaves in Egypt, and Fayum is the Boating Culture, so what we can see there is that Fayum is Little Atlantis. Phaiakians, Sentian Pirates, Phlegrae, Sceria, Carthage, Delos, etc. They are that Culture, so the Sea People were probably given to them as Slaves due to their History in Atlantis. They then Built Fayum with the Intention of some kind of Building a Place for themselves, which is why it was working at all. Then it got bad and Moses freed them.

This is proved by Kadmos, Kadmilos, Cadmus, the Great Gods of Samothrace, the T Heiroglyph, the Wax Loaf meaning "Give!" told in the story of the Cobbler Elves, where people are Slaves, then they get Ranks like in Free Masonry, but Slave Masonry, then the teachers, the Phaiakians and Phoenicians, leave and come back later, and now the King runs the Slavery and pays Wages, because he knows what they want so he can make Wages.

Atlantis was the time when Athens was a Colony of Sais:

"For in the times before the great flood Athens was the greatest and best of cities and did the noblest deeds and had the best constitution of any under the face of heaven.' Solon marvelled, and desired to be informed of the particulars. 'You are welcome to hear them,' said the priest, 'both for your own sake and for that of the city, and above all for the sake of the goddess who is the common foundress of both our cities. Nine thousand years have elapsed since she founded yours, and eight thousand since she founded ours, as our annals record. Many laws exist among us which are the counterpart of yours as they were in the olden time. I will briefly describe them to you, and you shall read the account of them at your leisure in the sacred registers. In the first place, there was a caste of priests among the ancient Athenians, and another of artisans; also castes of shepherds, hunters, and husbandmen, and lastly of warriors, who, like the warriors of Egypt, were separated from the rest, and carried shields and spears, a custom which the goddess first taught you, and then the Asiatics, and we among Asiatics first received from her. Observe again, what care the law took in the pursuit of wisdom, searching out the deep things of the world, and applying them to the use of man. The spot of earth which the goddess chose had the best of climates, and produced the wisest men; in no other was she herself, the philosopher and warrior goddess, so likely to have votaries. And there you dwelt as became the children of the gods, excelling all men in virtue, and many famous actions are recorded of you. The most famous of them all was the overthrow of the island of Atlantis. This great island lay over against the Pillars of Heracles, in extent greater than Libya and Asia put together, and was the passage to other islands and to a great ocean of which the Mediterranean sea was only the harbour; and within the Pillars the empire of Atlantis reached in Europe to Tyrrhenia and in Libya to Egypt. This mighty power was arrayed against Egypt and Hellas and all the countries bordering on the Mediterranean. Then your city did bravely, and won renown over the whole earth. For at the peril of her own existence, and when the other Hellenes had deserted her, she repelled the invader, and of her own accord gave liberty to all the nations within the Pillars. A little while afterwards there were great earthquakes and floods, and your warrior race all sank into the earth; and the great island of Atlantis also disappeared in the sea. This is the explanation of the shallows which are found in that part of the Atlantic ocean.”

Just with that at could Safely place me in the Category of Genius and I could Coast on that Achievement for the rest of my Life.

But I have done FAR MORE. I identified Kyphi as Ingredients, I added Galen’s Cold Cream Recipe to the work the “Egyptian Magic” Skincream Guy did, revealing that this was all something done at the Library of Alexandria. "CeraVe" the Skincare Brand got a boost as I added their Science to the Data, making this about Curing Skin and it even is about like Superfood. They got into it and hired Michael Cera after this became a kind of Whirlwind.

If I had just Discovered all of that, I would rest well ahead most Humans as far as Life Achievements, and Contributions to Society.

But I have done FAR FAR MORE.

Something Cliffe Knechtle Talks about that we could use to get into an even more Interesting Theological Discussion. Cliffe says that he Trusts Jesus because of Jesus' Character. So, from there we can use the Example he uses, telling College Students that if they Rise from the Dead he Promises to listen very Carefully to Everything they ever said, but we can also compare Jesus to say Paul. Jesus did not Write any of the New Testament, Paul Wrote most of it, this is kind of the Problem Jews and Muslims have with Paul, but they also have Problems with Jesus. We can say though that most People would say the Character of Jesus is unimpeachable, he was put on the Cross and almost anyone can hear the Story and agree it is a Tragedy and not a Story of Justice Served. He was a Good Guy, that's Cliffe Knechtle's Point, You can Trust Jesus, it doesn't turn out he was a Con-Man doing fake Healing to fill the Coffers, there is no Evidence of anything like that. He is a Reliable person.

Paul, Paul wasn't ignorant, but he wasn't Jesus. We can compare their Character. We can compare Paul to Jude, who Wrote the Book of Jude. We can compare him to the Other Authors, and see their kind of Intentions. We can see that Jesus was out to Help People Clearly, some People only see that. He taught about the "Good Samaritan" and for 2,000 Years like a Pagan God the Good Samaritan has been a Religious Idol to embody. And Jesus Clearly was seeing Things in a way that was not Common at the Time, as the Romans and Jews came together to Execute him. The Christian Discussion Today is kind of going to a Crazy Place too now, the Christian v. Atheist stuff is fine, it's the Flood, Creation, Adam and Eve, Morality, the Resurrection, etc. Christian v. Christian the argument is getting to where the most Influential Pastors are saying Things like "Works can not save", based on the Fact that Works and Works alone can not save, what is being said is that only Believing in Jesus Christ can save You, and You are so pitifully unable to meet the Standards of "Good" that You ought to give up on that, and just let Jesus forgive You. Kind of like a reverse AA meeting, instead of “One Day at a Time” it’s like “You can’t do it”. That’s the actual message, because the Point is that only Jesus can do it. So then You say “Ohhh, I get it”, and now You are saved and You can be a Godless Heathen all Day and Night but, then You remember that Jesus washed Your Sins away. Because that’s really what People do want to hear, it sounds offensive at First, but then it’s comforting for those who don’t want to be Good People. So it is effective, because if it’s Wrong it devastates those People, so they need it to be Right.

But the Bible is about Repentance. You must Repent, which isn’t just a Cosmic Apology, it’s like a Community Service Standard. Repentance is like leaving the Gang, and going around in a Wheelchair to all the Schools telling the Kids how You can’t walk because You Joined a Gang in Highschool, not just wearing a Jesus Piece. But that Jesus Piece Christianity is Popular, it’s Robert Jeffress’ Brand. In the New Testament Peter Talks about how some of this Works, being like Jesus, Paul did it, and in early Christianity it developed as the Martyr concept, from Jesus Dying for Everyone and his Cause, to Marcus Aerialius thinking of interesting ways to Murder Christians because they came begging to be Killed like their Lord. There is an Element of Jesus being not just the Bread and the Wine, and the one who put St. Peter at the Pearly Gates, he is also the Rabbi, getting back to the Good Samaritan as an example. The Beatitudes. The Parables. The Things that give us Jesus’ Character, because it turns out we aren’t just using his Character to Judge his Words, his Character is even in the Words we are Judging.

The Phoenicians and Punics had been the premiere Civilization for 1,500 years and was by most metrics far more advanced than Rome.

Roman Numerals is where our Math Originated, with other Number systems. Before that, the Alphabet was the letters and Numbers for most people. In North Africa they used Geometry to do Calculus, and weighed instead of counting. The weight was the Count in many cases, the same way money is weighed now with 1g representing a bill x $100 when measuring massive amounts. Like the phrase "worth its weight in Gold". In Carthage this was how it worked.

The Punic Mind, and the Carthaginian Mind. First, we can get a clear example in the fact that the North Africans worshipped Tannit, which is a conglomerate of several Egyptian Goddesses, which makes her Justice, Gravity, the Force that Holds the Universe together, we can comprehend it today by first thinking of the "Big Bang" Theory, if we take that perspective, the Universe was at some time all in 1 Small point. It is likely our Universe collapsed into existence out of a dying Universe, but that is a whole other subject. When our Universe came into existence through that point it then began to expand, and all things are 1, expanding, that is the Universe.

Then if I say "there is a Force connecting you to me, and us to Earth, and the Moon to Earth, and all of us to the Sun, pulling us together" it sounds like New Age mumbo jumbo. If I say "Gravity" you say, "Oh yeah, that force holding everything together connecting us to the Moon and Sun, causing Tides". Tannit, or Ma'at was Gravity, and Equated with Justice. Our "Blind Justice" Statues are her.

Now, for a clear example of Carthaginian Mathematics, we can look at Hannibal Barca's Victory over the Romans at Cannae, where they had no way of counting the dead other than to collect their rings, then determine how many each rank was in charge of that they had killed, and figure it out from there. So they had no infinite Numerical Digit system, but they did understand numbers on large scale still.

A modern example would be this, where you can measure something and once it is done there is no way of double checking, you can not reweigh it. But it is accurate, and helps to create microdoses.

If you have 1/2 gram of a powder, which is equal to 500mg and you want to put 1mg in a dosage, you could put 500mg in 1/2 Liter which is 500ml and now you have 1mg/1ml and you can use a medicine cap or measured pipette or dropper to measure 1ml. 1ml is 1mg and you know that because you weighed the powder and measured the volume of the liquid. This is how LSD is measured also, but one big dose of LSD is 100µg micrograms, there are 1000mg in 1 Gram, but there are 1000µg micrograms in 1mg. So using liquid and measuring the solid on a scale can give you even precise dosages on the smallest microdosing level.

Once it is done you know what you have, but you can't double check that in any way unless you evaporate the liquid, which Punics had the capability of doing also.

Egyptians carried around Wax Blobs with certain weights, like having a GPS on your Ancient Scales, meaning the Scale was like a Map, then kind of put on GPS (now with GPS, no one has to remember directions anywhere) when using Wax and Metal Blobs.

Flinders Petrie was an Archaeologist who discovered the rules and procedure for various Egyptian board games. He also discovered that Wax and Metal blobs around everywhere in Egypt were actually weights, used to Calibrate the scales. I am now expanding on that information given the discovery of the Egyptian headcones, and the Paintings of the feasts and the headcones, as well as Flinder's Wax Discoveries, and the concept of Punic Wax which is currently used in Encaustic Painting, but is so much more than that.

While building Cathedrals, Palaces and Cities, they had kept their tools in Lodges, where meals would be eaten and plans could be made in secret or jokes about Kings and Queens could be made without fearing death. These Lodges became the namesake of the Modern Freemason Lodges.

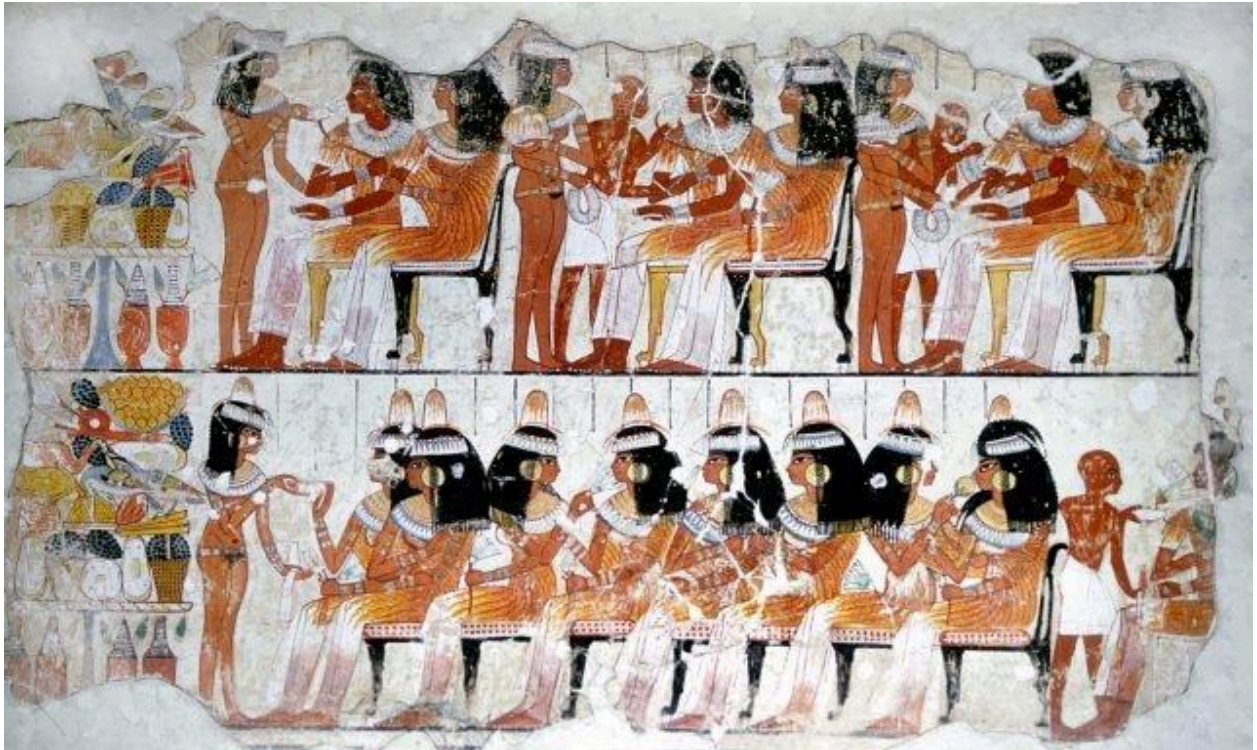

Punic Wax is the ointment on the head that ran down the beard into the garments, and that was discovered by Archaeologists in December 2019, so the Masons don't even know this and they read this verse when they are initiated.

Psalm 133 "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!"

2 It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard: that went down to the skirts of his garments;

3 As the dew of Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion: for there the Lord commanded the blessing, even life for evermore."

"At one time, the religion of Christianity had a different cross as their symbol, than the one used today and over the last 1500-1800 years. The original true cross that the Fathers of the Church had considered a symbol of our Saviour's cross was the letter Tau, who St. Jerome had declared that the ancient Hebrews before Esdrias formed the Tau like a cross, and who Saint Bede had said was "the sign of salvation and of the cross." The Tau is the 19th letter of the Greek alphabet which is modeled after the

Phoenicians who had represented the Tau with the Phoenician letter tau 'X.'

The same Origen, and Jerom, writing on Ezekiel ix. where it is said, that the angel stamped a Tau on the forehead of those who were to be preserved out of the hands of the destroying angel, observe that in the time of Ezekiel, and before the captivity of Babylon, the Tau of the Hebrews had the shape of a cross [x]; and this appears from the Samaritan medals, and from the ancient Samaritan alphabet.

In the Old Testament, this was represented as the serpent on the Tau, or cross.

The cross we see today is different and is based on the Greek [theta which is the eighth letter of the Greek alphabet. If you rearrange “theta” and take a letter t out and add the letter d, you can spell death. This makes sense since the English language was derived from the Greeks.

The Greek theta also represents the Son of Man hanging on the cross and is considered the symbol of death. Hence, Jesus was crucified at age 33 on April 3, 33 AD.

It is the double-headed axe of the goddess which can be found on seals and art from Crete. Please notice the image of the war goddess below with her axes and priesthood of the Curetes, who of which she placed in charge after she hid the infant Zeus in a cave on Mount Ida on the same island of Crete. The Curetes would later become the Roman Curia.

This image below is from Crete and is of a religious depiction of the ceremony involved with the war goddess who is also known as the snake or serpent goddess, in what looks like one of the first uses of the goddess and cross in the same ceremony. Hence, The power of the serpent of Egypt was broken on the cross – Justin Martyr.

In Crete, the symbol of the double-axe always accompanies goddesses, and it seems that it was the symbol of the beginning (arche) of the creation. The word labyrinth, which the Greeks used for the palace of Knossos is derived from “labrys”. Plutarch relates the word labrys with a Lydian word for axe: (Λυδοὶ γὰρ ‘λάβρυν’ τὸν πέλεκυν ὀνομάζουσι). Labrys (λάβρυς in Greek, lábrys) is the term for a symmetric doubleheaded axe originally from Crete in Greece, one of the oldest symbols of Greek civilization; to the Romans, it was known as a bipennis. It seems that the goddess of the double-axe presided over the Minoan palaces, and especially over the palace of Knossos. A Linear B inscription on tablet Gg702 found in Knossos, was interpreted “da-pu-ri-to-jo po-ti-ni-ja= labyntioio potnoiai” (to the Mistress of the labyrinth), and she was undoubtedly the goddess of the palace.”

Heiroglyph Q6 is the Sarcophagus, the Loaf on top may not directly be meant to represent an actual loaf of Beeswax, but the Punic Wax sister discovery called "Egyptian Magic" was a creation made based on Sarcophogus coating recipes, and the Sarcophaguses are coated in beeswax. It is likely that the loaf shape in Q6 represents a wax covering.

Then the Wax Loafs are clearly associated with Bees, which make the Wax, and other things. Heiroglyph A57 is clearly some kind of ritualistic representation for Punic Wax and the very Heiroglyph for "gift" or "give" is a person handing a cone loaf (Bread) to another. Punic Wax is the unidentified rounded loaf.

Jesus most likely knew the word "Dynasty" and likely had at the very very least an understanding of a few of Egypt's transitions. He had access to, and probably grew up in, a culture steeped in Manethos Aegyptiaca.

He was like Eshmun, or Imhotep, and later was Galen when it became Pharmacopiea. Imhotep, inventor of Medicine, Surgery, Columns, Stairs, Pyramids, etc. said "Medicine only works with the proper incantation" which is basically to say that the Placebo Effect, which does cure people, is Magic. How far does the Placebo Effect go? What can you make happen by pure force of Faith and the consequent Placebo Effect, or Magic. Miracles. Buddha existed 600 years before Jesus, Zoroaster 1000. People think "Jesus times" and 0 A.D and think "the beginning", but we were well in to Human Civilization, international travel, international books, etc, when Jesus came. Jesus said that if you have faith that it will happen, you can ask a mountain to jump into the Ocean.

This is an Ancient Recipe from Galen who studied at the Library of Alexandria. It is a cream made from Beeswax.

"This is the original Galen's Cold Cream [Beeswax] recipe invented by Galen [in 150 A.D. and Translated] in the 9th century. This makes a firm set cream which liquidises almost immediately on contact with the skin. It can be used as a cleansing cream, handcream or as an alternative to oil for certain types of massage. You could substitute orange-flower water or distilled water for the rosewater, and any essential oil suitable for your purposes instead of the Rose.

Punic Wax in Ancient Egypt was used to symbolize Rebirth and Creation, the cycle of Destruction, Preservation and Creation. It was used to hold Wig styles and make Dreadlocks, as well as Shampoo. And just by looking at the drawings by the Hieroglyphs you can see it was allowed to run onto the clothes and may have been how Egyptians designed their clothing. Beeswax was also used for most amulets, and statuettes, or used to make casts for metal. The Sun is the Bee God.

"When we are looking at the feast scenes that are displayed on the walls of ancient Egyptian tombs, definitely noticeable are pale yellow hills that are depicted above heads of the feast participants. Generally, these hills are perceived as decorations of egyptian wigs. Seems like this had been quite the widespread and characteristic fashion element during the times of New Kingdom.

Researchers of ancient Egyptian culture and art based their conclusions on the quite recent discovery of archaeologists. In accordance with that, ancient Egyptian wig decorations have been named as "perfume cones." However, this bizarre arrangement on their wigs is so unique that it should be regarded as an old-time fashion accessory. Perfume cones once were used as symbolic and quite decorative items, but they also had an important functional role.

Odoriferous cones Egyptians began to use in the times of the New Kingdom. In particular, perfume cones became common during the time of 18. dynasty as evidenced by the many tomb paintings in which we can see feast participants - musicians and dancers, as well as guests. They are all wearing these strange cones on their heads.

It turns out that perfume cones could be made of creamy scents. However, it seems like the cones that are used as decorations on Egyptian wigs during The New Kingdom were made from either aromatic resin, or ox fat impregnated with myrrh. During the feast, these cones, slowly melting, released a sweet aroma. It was a tradition among men and women to adorn their heads with perfume cones especially during the feasts and celebrations. In addition, in ancient Egypt it was the usual habit to offer those perfume cones to guests, as soon as they arrived at the celebration place. The guests received those refreshing perfume cones that were soaked in, aromatic substances, creating truly the right environment for celebrations.

Modern experiments showed that perfumed beeswax, essential oils and fats could also be used in Ancient Egypt. According to today's people's idea, all the substances mentioned above, were carried on the heads of Ancient Egyptians during the celebration. When nightly events started, these cones gradually melted, spreading a wonderful and sweet aroma, as well as these perfumes seemed as pleasant refreshments to guests... just like lemonade or any soft drink.

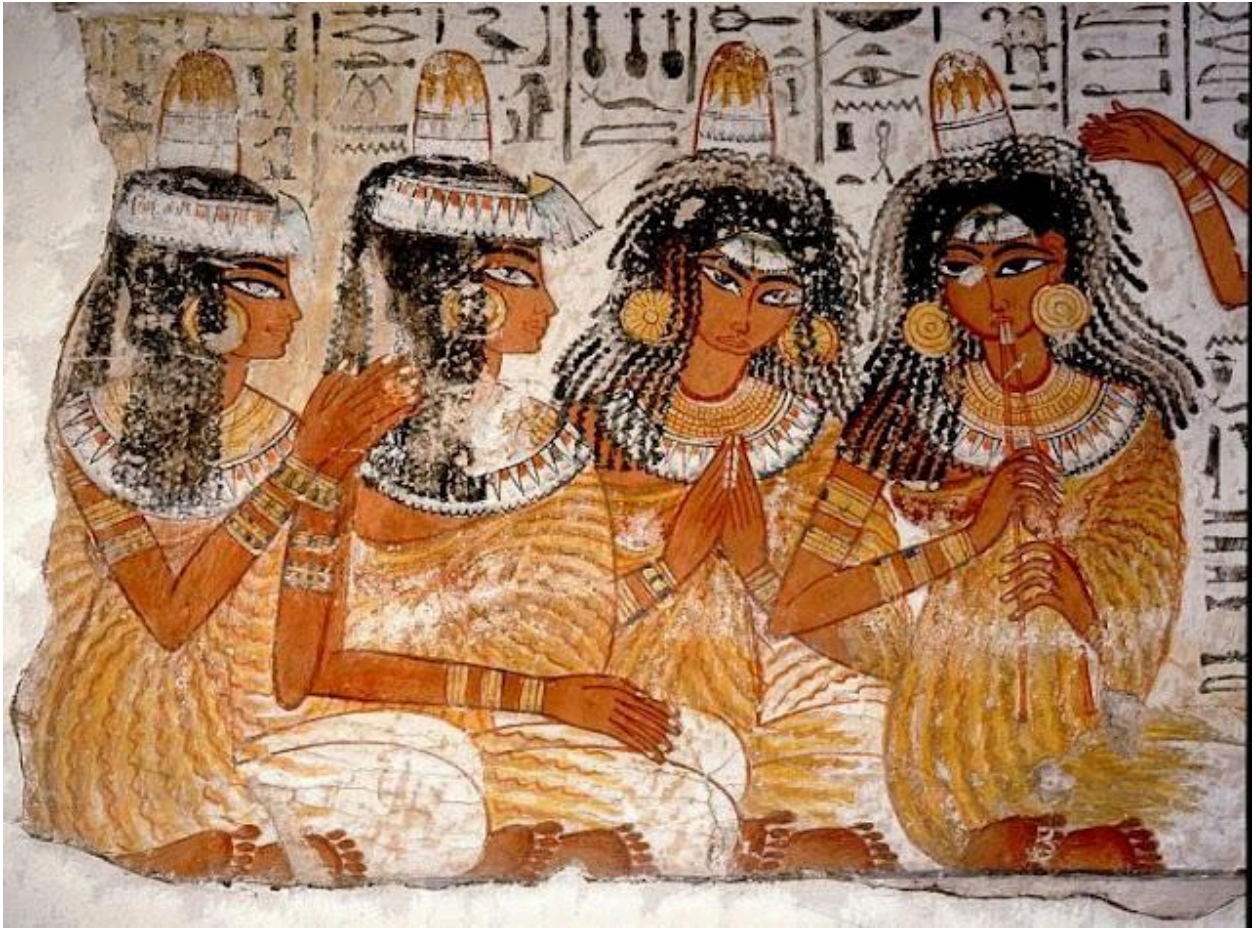

Judging from the tomb paintings as seen in the examples, quite noticeable are yellow flower petals on the top of some cones.

Hieroglyphs message from an ancient Egyptian stone stele is quite clear - "perfume on their heads."

According to some researchers' opinion, perfume cone usage in ancient Egypt is rather linked to the symbolic and aesthetic perceptions. It shows the fragrance concept itself - the physical, sensual and aesthetic aspects.

Perfume has been widely applied in many Egyptian religious rituals, funerals, embalming and, of course, during the feast, where emphasis was placed on stimulating, sexuality-building role of perfume."

-<https://www.fashionologiahistoriana.com/costume-history-legends-essays-in-english/perfume-cone-the-mysterious-fashion-accessory-of-ancient-egypt>

"It took scholars nearly a decade to secure funding and complete a substantial examination of the head cones, giving them a chance to test another popular theory about the unusual objects: The head cones were actually solid lumps of perfumed fat that melted over the heads of their wearers and acted as a sort of ancient, fragranced hair gel.

The findings from Amarna seem to negate the ancient styling product theory. The cones weren't solid—they were hollow shells folded around brown-black organic matter the team thinks may be fabric. Both head cones had chemical signatures of decayed wax; the team concluded they were made of beeswax, the only biological wax known to be used by ancient Egyptians. Furthermore, no traces of wax were found in the hair of the most well-preserved skeleton.

Given artistic associations of the objects with childbirth, and the fact that at least one of the specimens was an adult woman, the team suggests the cones had something to do with fertility. But the fact that they were found in a non-elite cemetery makes it difficult to interpret the meaning behind them."

"It cannot be disputed that the Ancient Egyptians attached great religious and spiritual significance to the honey bee. Bees were associated with royalty in Egypt; indeed, as early as 3500 BC, the bee was the symbol of the King of Lower Egypt! (The symbol of the King of Upper Egypt was a reed). There are many examples of bee hieroglyphs to be found in the records, as well as hieroglyphs for honey and beekeeper.

Beekeeping has been practiced for thousands of years in Egypt. For at least four thousand five hundred years, the Egyptians have been making hives in the same way, out of pipes of clay or Nile mud, often stacked one on top of another. These hives were moved up and down the Nile depending on the time of year, allowing the bees to pollinate any and all flowers which were in season.

Special rafts were built for moving these hives, which were stacked in pyramids. At each new location, the hives were carried to the nearby flowers and released. When the flowers died, the bees were taken a few miles further down the Nile and released again. Thus the bees traveled the whole length of Egypt. This tradition continues into the present day.

Honey and wax were used for religious as well as practical purposes. Sacred animals were fed cakes sweetened with honey. These animals included the sacred bull at Memphis, the sacred lion at Leontopolis, and the sacred crocodile at Crocodilopolis. Mummies were sometimes embalmed in honey, and often sarcophagi were sealed up with beeswax. Jars of honey were left in tombs as offerings the dead, to give them something to eat in the afterlife. One of our favorite stories to tell kids is that when King Tut's tomb was open, a 2,000-year-old jar of honey was found. And because honey never spoils, it was still perfectly edible!

It was widely believed in Ancient Egypt that if a witch or a wizard made a beeswax figure of a man and injured or destroyed it, the man himself would suffer or die. In a ceremonial offering known as the "Opening of the Mouth", priests used special instruments to place honey into the mouth of a statue of a god, or the statue or mummy of a king or other great noble. Certain lines in ancient rituals indicate that the Egyptians may have even believed that the soul of a man (his "ka", or double; the part which continues after death) took the form of a bee. Another ritual from the Book of "Am-Tuat", or "the Otherworld", compares the voices of souls to the hum of bees.

It was written in another ritual, contained in the "Salt Magical Papyrus", that bees were created from the tears of the sun-god Ra himself, whom the Egyptians believed to be the creator of the earth and the sea. Ra's right eye was the sun, his left eye was the moon, and he caused the Nile to flood.

"When Ra weeps again the water which flows from his eyes upon the ground turns into working bees. They work in flowers and trees of every kind and wax and honey come into being."

-https://www.planetbee.org/planet-bee-blog//the-sacred-bees-in-ancient-egypt

"The unique physical properties of beeswax; water-resistance, malleability and a low melting point, made it useful to the ancient Egyptians in a number of ways.

Beeswax was used to preserve the curls and plaits in wigs and could be used as a face cream. In medicine it was used as an adhesive for bandages and to bind active ingredients into pills. Boats were waterproofed with beeswax and complex metal shapes were created using the 'lost wax' casting technique.

The properties of beeswax also created a number of symbolic associations for the Egyptians. Its malleability made beeswax a perfect metaphor for creation in religious rituals, allowing an individual to embody the god

Khnum who modelled life out of clay. Wax could also be used to mimic life-like features such as hair and skin in art. For the Egyptians this reinforced the idea that beeswax was imbued with life-giving properties.

Consequently beeswax was also connected to Egyptian ideas about the sun and its symbolism, further strengthening its associations with new life.

This relationship between the symbolic and practical qualities of beeswax can be seen especially well in the use of beeswax models.

Beeswax models were used for a wide range of religious practices. Some of the best documented are execration rituals. Execration rituals involved the symbolic destruction of an enemy through the actual destruction of an object bearing the enemy's likeness. The lifelike qualities of wax made it a perfect material for these rituals as models could be made to look as much like the enemy to be destroyed as possible, adding realism and power to the symbolic destruction.

This realism also lent power to beeswax when it was used to symbolise new life. From the New Kingdom into the Third Intermediate Period beeswax benu birds were placed in tombs to encourage rebirth in the afterlife. By the Late Period benu bird moulds with traces of beeswax were also placed in tombs. One of the beliefs held by Egyptians about the benu bird was that its call had summoned life into an empty world of dark waters, tying it to the same ideas of new life and renewal ascribed to beeswax.

Other wax objects placed in tombs and intended to imbue life to the deceased included amulets such as ankhs made of beeswax and coated in gold. Wax models of the four sons of Horus were also placed in tombs in the Third Intermediate Period when canopic jars became less common. These wax figures served to protect the organs of a mummified individual for use in the afterlife. As with the amulets and the benubird figures these sets could be produced en masse due in part to wax's low melting point and malleability. This once again demonstrates the material's physical properties harmonising with its symbolism.

The magical applications of beeswax figures are also mentioned in a number of Egyptian texts. In Papyrus Westcar a priest is recorded as bringing a wax crocodile to life to eat his wife's lover and in papyri Lee and Rollin the suspects in Ramses III's harem conspiracy are accused of making wax models to 'disable and enfeeble the limbs'.

Beeswax would therefore have been a common sight in Egyptian life, in religion, in medicine, in shipbuilding, beauty, magic and art. Its properties made beeswax useful in a wide range of industries but also imbued it with special meaning focusing on life and vitality.

Consequently the symbolic applications of beeswax can be seen to have been as real to the Egyptians as their practical uses without one ever belittling the other. This allowed beeswax to exist as both a material to be used and respected as a substance with special meaning depending on the situation. Consequently it existed simultaneously as a special and a ubiquitous part of Egyptian life."

"Tomb paintings show beekeepers removing round honeycomb from the horizontal hives. The honeycomb was crushed and then placed into containers.

"So, of course, I had to do this," Kritsky says. "I took honeycomb and I crushed it, and I put it in a container in the hot sun and the beeswax floated to the top and the honey stayed below the beeswax."

Another relief shows beekeepers holding a vessel with a spout coming from the middle or towards the bottom, Kritsky says — much like a fat separator used for making gravy. "That may be one way they could have decanted a lot of the hon

Subject: Re: Ritual From a Society that Ended 5,000 Years Ago

I think some People hear about the Scapegoat Ritual, and the simplicity of the Evidence that I am been offered to Azazel and Azazel seemed to retake the Offering, and they then either go into like saying I'm a Devil instead of an Angel with Religious or Atheist connotations, or they think "So, we should let him go", and sure the "Escape Goat" part is that once this was done to me I was supposed to be released like how the Ceremony goes. They would sometimes like choose a Prisoner and do like King for a Day or whatever, like he's the center of a Holiday type thing, then they give him all of their Sins and send him off on his way. So sure, we can do the like "Stop Truman Showing my Life" thing, but also we have to look at that this was already done, the DEA watched a group of Drug Addicts do the Ritual to me in Rowlett, the Media then I think wanted to try and thought like it was a new thing and didn't understand kind of the Blame and how it works, and kind of decided to Blame me for all kinds of things. I was Blamed for everything from trying to Kill Donald Trump, to being associated with QAnon or something during the Trump Riots just because the Media wanted a way to describe my eMails.

So everyone needs to know, we can keep doing the Scapegoat Ritual to me, but Azazel already accepted the Offering and like we got a response. Like, Houdini set up a thing and said, "Do this every year and see if I show up after I die", and so like we did the Azazel thing and it works everyone, the Scapegoat Ritual Works, Jesus did it too kind of taking the Blame for any Sins you want to put on him. But we have now Modern Evidence that the Ritual Works. And there are things constantly happening. My point being that learning about the "Escape Goat" and trying to like have me be on my way as the DEA and FBI, US Marshals, Capitol Police, State Police, have all been doing, isn't necessarily going to just be allowed. I think we all have things we have to get through together now, for everyone. I need probably several Government agencies to open up communications and stop pretending they are ignoring me. Or we will slowly just Cannabilize the Old Government from inside itself like a Body looking for Sustenance and eating the Muscles, the Government will change from the inside if they continue to keep us a secret or otherwise. We are them, they just aren't talking to us.

Me: We are the Gods what come from Kush.

Wisdom:

Known as the Divine Ones, the Kushites are a people shrouded in mystery. They are said to be a powerful and warlike people who originate from the land of Kush in present-day Egypt. Their culture is colourful and distinctive, and they are famous for their art, music, and literature.

I know it's kind of Hard to understand the Free Speech aspect of this, and I Wrote for You about how Burning a Flag, Tearing Down a Flag, these have been Winning Free Speech arguments, and taking Ecstasy was argued to be Free Speech but they lost. And I mentioned Stoning someone to Death Publicly, and Killing someone with Stones might seem extreme.

But if we can get to 2 Points at the same Time, this can more easily be shown to make sense for Everyone. Breaking the Screen being Free Speech hinges on the fact that we in fact were having a back and forth, and I was being Harmed. So then it wasn't just Free Speech, it was then also Necessity. And Legally we could actually argue that I had a Right to Kill someone, so the Public Killing of someone with Stones as a Message is actually how Far I Legally could have gone because of how I've been being treated. The Ostracisation attempt, the Scapegoat Ritual preformed on me (even if it was an Accident and they didn't know their actions amounted to this Ritual).

But People were Starting to see the Angels, like Tribes, and the Law, and Azazel we can all always- the Scapegoat Ritual is Real.

And there Really was Though, like maybe we just had to do all this to Bring more People in, and the Islamic World be more a Part of it, because it was like a High Society of Islam involved with us. But now there are many Others coming in. So this maybe Happened because more People had to Learn.

In the Law of Dharma Shiva is the Creator of the Universe according to the Argument where he appears as a Beam of Light, as he tends to do.

Sadhus are for Dharmic Balance. Shiva sits on a Tiger Skin, Holds a Drum, a Trishula, and has several other Symbols of Surviving "Floods". Sadhus absorb Sins, like Jesus, who visited the Apis City.

This can be compared to the Scapegoat Ritual from Ebla where Sins are put on an Animal or Person who is then left for Azazel. It's not much different than Sacrificing Animals for Sin, or Alms generally.

Look Y'all, this guy is talking more Sense about how the "Star People" Work, than ANYONE ON ANCIENT ALIENS.

<https://tubitv.com/movies/290356/paranormal-occult-magick-angels-and-demons>

This is how it Really Works, and these People are a little Isolated, they aren't the Molech Worshipers at Camp David that Alex Jones got famous for Filming, but those People aren't out making Documentaries that are competitive with Ancient Alien Theorists.

Goetia is what the Guy in the Video is Teaching, that is like from Jesus to 1500 or 1600 AD, there were Pagans all around, and they were being converted. And those Conversions weren't all at the End of a Sword, some People saw the Pagan Gods in the Judeau-Christian Angels, now these Gods and Angels are called "Aliens", but they have no Bodies, they are the Ancient Gods.

I would have everyone compare Goetia to Swedenborgism, particularly the Books "Earths in the Starry Heavens and their Inhabitants", where Emanuel Swedenborg writes in Latin about his Conversations with the Angels of other Planets.

This is also what Aleister Crowley was into, and he had an Alien or Demon or Angel at the center of his Sex Magic called Thelma. Goetia is also then Similar to Enochian Magic, which is about Enoch who was the Scribe for the Angels, he lived a few Generations before Noah and the Flood, and did not Die but went with God according to Genesis. Then the Book of Enoch is Written for the Angels around 200 BC, in Africa, and is still part of Ethiopian Orthodox, we could point to Put and Cush in the Bible. Goetia and Enochian Magic are like The Keys of Solomon, and the First Chapter of the Keys of Solomon basically says that God doesn't change the Movement of the Sun and Stars as his Miracles, but instead to understand God and Angels and Magic, who have to understand the Movement of the Stars, and Planets, and Sun and Moon, and so Love God in that way, understanding and Loving him.

And the Goetia Grimoires were Written as Pagans saw how Jesus was part of their Religion, and it was a Syncretic Type Religion, before Roman Catholicism became the center of Syncretism. That leading to a comparison with Santa Ria, which helps to bring an understanding of how Personal the Angels and Demons become, as an Orisha is an example, and is an Invisible Entity that You feed with Fruits and Others Offerings. Creating a kind of Shrine for them, and Burning Candles. Fidel Castro would kill Tigers to feed his Orisha.

Subject: Re: Ancient Technologies Re: Titans

From the Diaspora

The Amica Temple of Radiance was create when Ivah Bergh Whitten was diagnosed with an incurable illness, and once she began to correlate her life with a certain Color, she was supposedly healed with no other explanation other than the Colors. What we can then start to see from this when we look into the Ancient World is something larger, first, we can look at the Zodiac. The Zodiac gives you a Sign associated with the Day you were Born, which is different than your Birth Month and Birth Day, if you then go further and then look at Birth Stones, we can see that each Month is associated with a Stone. Now we can begin to associate Chakras and Stones, with Months and Deities. We then can look at other Stones, Plants associated with these Deities, and begin to but these together. This is how you summon an Egregore or an Oracle. What we can then see further than this is how a Calendar is made, if we start with the Sun and Moon we can see Day and Night, we have each Day that passes. From there we have Moon Cycles, each Moon Cycle last 1 Month, there are 12 Moon Cycles per Year, making 12 Months in the Year, these could also be called "Moonths". So now we have the Day, and the Nights, created 365 Cycles of Day, and 12 Full Cycles of the Moon; the Sun being associated with Gold, and the Moon being associated with Silver. From here we have Artemis, the Hunting Goddess and Apollo, the Sun King, and Zeus and Hercules, the Thunder Royalty. These Gods and Goddesses then come together to form a Calendar, and each one has its own Symbols, Metals and Plants, associated with Holidays and Seasons. The word "Holiday" itself coming from the British being present at the Hindu Holi Celebration, where everyone throws Plant Dyes at each other and Drinks Marijuana Milk, both of which are immuno-stimulants, and meant to represent the Unity of Colors, the Metatron Equivalent. This can also be seen at the End of the Flood, when Noah sees a Rainbow; and then we see the Table of Nations, making Noah like Enoch, Noah is Metatron.

In the Regions of East Africa where Punt can be found, and in other Routes North and South to Mecca we see a phenomenon in which people are stricken with an affliction that does not currently have any understanding, other than for Scientists to say it seems as if the Women are seeking attention. But what is happening, is that on these Routes to Mecca there are people who are converted to Zar, or there are entire communities of people Practicing Zar, which is a retainment of the Egyptian Egregores and Oracles, very much in line with what we see in the Amica Temple of Radiance, yet in the Amica Temple of Radiance, there was no Shaman, there was no one there to tell her to do this, in the Zar Religion there is generally a Shaman that tells the Woman which Deity is effecting her. The Possessing Spirits are called Het, or Tumbura, "Thread", we can see this as being like "Tradition" but deeper than Tradition, as there is a Thread, like an Oracle or Egregore, a Thread. The word for Possession is "Cover" rather than to Enter or Control, so these are not Spirits which will take you over and control your body and mind as in a Possession, you are not Possessed by these Threads, they are outside of you and being fed by various Traditions, no different than the Orisha of Santaria, another Indigenous Syncretic Religion, or the God of the Bible, the God of the Jews and Muslims, it is no different whatsoever, but a Thread wants Perfumes, and Incense, Beeswax, and its Colors or Clothings. This is mistaken for Mental Illness, but can not explain the Cycles of Egyptian Magic from the Sarcophagi to Galen (Galen's Cold Cream) to Today, Punic Wax (including the Headcones), Candles and Wax Melts included in this as well as the Wax Painting of the Byzantine Empire and Punic Wax in Germany, or my Relationship with the Goddess Tanit. If these are Mental Diseases, then I am personally afflicted with a Mental Disease called English, and so are you because you can read this, and there are others afflicted with Diseases called Spanish and French, Arabic and Mandarin. These Languages are just as much a Mental Illness as any of these Religious Beliefs. I would say that this is something Natural that we have been denying, we are in disorder, and the Sun and Earth are attempting to Reorder us; the Dying Bees are an Example of our disorder. The Religion is not a Disorder, it is a correction of the Disorder. Jesus was given Gold, Frankincense and Myrrh when he was Born.

Here are some Tumbura, Thread, names:

Nuba, Banda, Gumuz, Sawakinyya, Lambunat, Baburat, Bashawat, Khawajat

Aysitu, Azuzar and Djehuti

Throne, Chief and Scribe (Thought, Writing, Alchemy all included in Scribe)

Ayitsu is Isis or Hathor. Azuzar is the Chief, either the Sun or Jupiter as discussed throughout this Book and the Book of Alexander. Djehuti, pronounced "Tah-Hooti", Thoth, is the Scribe, Mercury, Hermes. In this and Sarah, the Defenders of the Sun, we can begin to see the structure of a Metatron. Zar is thought to come from the word Jar, which is the word for the Sky God of the Agaw people. The phenomenon can be compared to Voodoo, coming from the word Voudum, which is the Fon word for “Spirit”; and similar phenomenon can be connected to the origins of almost every Dancing Tradition in the World. This and Musical Instruments are one of the Subjects of the Book of Angels, as Music has origins in these Traditions as well. We can begin to see these things in the Greek Muses, or the Mnemosyne, the Goddess of Memory, and really the entire Greek Pantheon. Zar is in fact a Natural part of the World.

In Iran Zar are called “Harmful Wind”, names include:

Maturi, Sayk Sangar, Dingemaru, Omagare, Bumaryom, Pepe, Babur,

Bibi, Namrud Apollonius Memory Quote

We can begin to further understand this concept of Threads by understanding Mnemonics. Most of us know at least 1 Mnemonic, but do not know the word itself. A Mnemonic is a way to remember something, usually including an Acronym and a Poem, the most common example is Roy G. Biv, which instead of a Poem looks like a Name, but each of the letters represents a Color, and by remembering the Name Roy G. Biv, you are remembering the order of the Colors of the Rainbow, in:

- ed O range Y ellow G reen B lue

n
d i
g o
l e t

This is one of the most simple, and the next most common probably is Please Excuse My Dear Aunt Sally, for Algebra, and in this we see:

- Parenthesis Exponents Multiply
- Divide Addition

Subtraction

Also called, PEM-DAS.

These are Mnemonics. And from these we can begin to remember things more easily. We can then start to use our hands for more complex concepts, for example when you get to the Calendar, the 12 Cycles of the Moon, our Months have usually 30 or 31 Days, if you hold both of your hands in front of you as fists, then begin to count your knuckles from either side, you will see that the Pinky has a knuckle, then a dip, then a knuckle, and a dip, and a knuckle and a dip. Each knuckle can generally be counted as 31, and each dip as 30, which matches except for February, which is 28 but fits into the Framework, then when you get to your pointer finger knuckle before going to the next hand, you count 31, and on the next hand you count a knuckle again, so 31. This is July and August, the only 2 Months with 31 one after another, Caesar having taken a day from February to put in August. So by Counting your knuckles you can see how many Days are in the current Month you are in (with 28 or 29 in February for Leap Year). This looks on your knuckles, like:

31	31	31	31-31	31 31	31
28	30	30	30	30	30

For the Planets we can see both simple and complex Mnemonics. First, we can see a way to remember the Names of the Planets in Order, but the Planets clearly become more complex, and we can see more complex versions also, the simple ones go like this:

ry
x

ci te
d

- other J ust

r
d
U
s
P
z

This is the Planets going from closest to the Sun first, Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto. This can become more complex as you attempt to remember the order of the Planets, and which are made of Gas. If you use your hand, you would use the same one twice, or use 2 hands facing the same direction an so you have 4 fingers, and a Thumb, 4 Fingers and a Thumb. Your first 4 Fingers will represent the closet planets to the Sun, and also represent the Terrestrial Planets, so if your Palm is facing down, and you point at your left Pinky with your right hand, that left Pinky is Mercury, the Ring Finger is Venus, the Middle Finger is Earth, the Pointer Finger is Mars, this is the Solid Planets with Terrestrial surfaces. This then ends with the Thumb representing the Asteroid Belt, which exists circling our Sun no different than the Planets, but the Asteroid Belt is like the Rings of Saturn and around the entire Sun like a whole Planet's Orbit, so it is represented by the Thumb. Next is the Pinky again, this is Jupiter, the Ring Finger is Saturn, Middle Finger is Uranus, Pointer Finger is Neptune, and the Thumb is Pluto and other Bodies.

This is what we are seeing in Temples, we can see that in the Ancient World, there were no Numbers, the systems spread by the Phoenicians, creators of Language, did not include a separate number system, the first Numerals were Roman Numerals, I, II, III, IV, V, VI, VII, VIII, IX, X. Before this we only had an Alphabet, which was also the Numeral System, and from this we get Numerology, and Gematria, and what we see in the Deities is that their Names are not Random, they are Numeric Values, which is Deities like Abraxas is much more clear, ABRAXAS representing 365 Aeons, the 365 Days, in the Calendar, so Abraxas is a clear example, but every deity was made into an Idol in this way, the Idolatry seen in Polytheism, called Shirk by Muslims, is not people worshipping something Random, as if you went back in Time and told them you were God and tricked people into Worshipping you by doing tricks. It is more like bringing a Cardboard Cutout of a Football Player back in time, and told them that this was a Great Hero from your land, and taught them how to play football and measure yards, and everyone started having ceremonies where they wore Jerseys and it looked like people gathering for a Football game every Sunday, that is more like what Idolatry is, except that Football is more like the Olympics, Sports were clearly understood by the Ancients, and were in fact associated with Deities, but these Deities themselves then were representative of recognizable entities in and throughout our World, sometimes that being the Sun, or things which emanate from the Sun, or the Thunder and Lightning, or the Moon, or various Planets. We can then see these Names, Zeus, and Ra, and Thor, these are systems which contain a high level of Numerology in their practice, because the Words would not exist without Numerology, with a deep connection not just to each Planet, but the entire movement of the Sky, the Constellations and the Movement of the Zodiac as the Sun seems to move through the Sky throughout the Year, returning to the same spot once Earth has made a full rotation around the Sun making 1 Year. The Cardboard Cutout is not the Deity in the Metaphor, the Education about Measurements and the Sport would be the Deity, like Wrestling, or Javelin Throwing, Shot-put, Track, etc, we can see these as similar to Musical Instruments, they are not Deities, but they are formed through Relationships with the Deities and an understanding of the Sky, and then Music is Mnemonic, Writing is Mnemonic, by Writing things down, by Writing Music, you are creating a Mnemonic that another person can then carry out on an Instrument with no Memory of having done it before, and they can do the same thing. This is the Goddess Mnemosyne being connected to a Person, called Memory in the Life of Apollonius of Tyanna. Called Memory today, but we see it differently, today we think that the Words exist, and the thing is just fake, described by a word, and not something that it outside of the Word that it is describing; but it is the other way, these things like Memory existed first, and we had to describe them to each other, and the words we have now to describe Memory are from our collective attempt to describe something that is attached to us.. This also then gets into Metaphysics and the fact that each Cell in your body is an independent Organism with Organs like your own Body (the Nucleus, Cell Wall, Mitochondria, etc), collectively combining to make your Tissue and Organs, that then form your Body., which we will get deeper into in the Book of Bat.

Subject: Prophecy

This is what is being said when someone says "immeasurable by Eurocentric standards", I think she is just saying "yet", or to the larger point, White people don't care about any of this.

From Jesus and Mary and John the Baptist, to Muhammed, and even back to the Jewish people, then forward to Noble Drew Ali, the Honorable Elijah Mohammed, etc. That prophecy, of the kind in the Bible, largely comes from outside of European lines.

Then if we go further back to Mopsus and Idmon the Argonaut. We can see Prophecy being born in the Western Fashion. He says he will die when he goes somewhere, he does, and he is God of Prophets. Then Arachne in Greek Mythology, her father sells fabrics. She weaves about Leda, and King Phoenix's Maternal Line, Queens, Princesses and Goddesses raped by Zeus.

If we then look in the Bible, the Nephilim, Goliath, Nimrod and the Tower of Babel, the Sybelline Texts, Cybelle, Kadesh, and the Armistice. Cush and Put in the Bible. The History of Apollonius of Tyanna.

White Society, as great the achievements have come from it, as everyone has endeared themselves so to the "Institutions", but those Dark Ages as we call them, were not some small thing.

The whole "Vernacular", and Martin Luther's not Latin Bible, the Renaissance, the Enlightenment. We aren't all the way out of the Dark Ages yet, it set us Back. And Europeans were already not the best at anything but writing apparently, which did work out for Europeans. But the X Haplogroup Colonized America First, and the M Haplogroup were descendants of the first intellectual people.

India Colonized Punt, Aksum area, 30,000 years ago. Siberians crossed maybe a land bridge and boats, some instead going to Europe and maybe crossing there, connecting Dravidian and Uguric Languages from the Balkan/Slavic area, then Colonizing America from both West and East Coast 20,000 years ago.

Samoans spoke of Dwarves who built walls and lived there before them and with them, and they turned out to be a real society there of Stone Masons that existed. Maybe who the Easter Islanders were waiting for.

The Tibetan letters read Om, ah, hum, hri, with the central letter tran, a tantric formula used by Buddhists, for example to transform the ten impure elements into ambrosia. (Photo 2007: Rebecca Empson.)... shamans' mirrors, and mirrors in general, have two quite different sides, one reflecting images and the other a dull blank or imagined as a teeming other world. It is argued that, for shamanists, the far side of the mirror is conceived as the world of the dead, which is populated by spirits. Living people can, in certain circumstances such as divination, see 'through' the mirror into that world, and shamans when interacting with spirits in trance place themselves inside it. Two different perspectives, of the living and of the souls/spirits, are thus produced."

The idea of going to the right, or left, and basing your entire geographical person on your own visual field is not the same as Ancient people viewed their relativity to the Universe. People used the Sun and the Stars as a guide, they knew the Sun rose the direction we now call East and sets the direction we call West and they based their direction fields based on that universal perspective. This perspective was similarly how Dreaming was viewed, not as a personal field of inner vision formulated by yourself, but a shared realm which we all enter when we sleep.

The Dream World is synonymous with an aspect of the Spirit World with several other points of access available outside of Dreaming.

"Where was the evolutionary birthplace of modern humans? The East African Great Rift Valley has long been the favored contender – until today. Our new research has used DNA to trace humanity's earliest footsteps to a prehistoric wetland called Makgadikgadi-Okavango, south of the Great Zambezi River. Our analysis, published in Nature, shows that the earliest population of modern humans (Homo sapiens sapiens) arose 200,000 years ago in an area that covers parts of modern-day Botswana, Namibia and Zimbabwe."

"The use of psychoactive plants by traditional healers in southern Africa appears to be a neglected area of ethnobotanical research. This article explores the healing dynamics involved in the use of popular psychoactive plant preparations known as ubulawu in the initiation rituals of Southern Bantu diviners. Research methods include a review of the literature, fieldwork interviews with Southern Bantu diviners, and an analysis of experiential accounts from diverse informants on their use of ubulawu. Findings reveal that there is widespread reliance on ubulawu as psychoactive spiritual medicines by the indigenous people of southern Africa to communicate with their ancestral spirits--so as to bring luck, and to treat mental disturbances. In the case of the Southern Bantu diviners, ubulawu used in a ritual initiation process acts as a mnemonic aid and medicine to familiarize the initiates with enhanced states of awareness and related psychospiritual phenomena such as enhanced intuition and dreams of the ancestral spirits, who teach the initiates how to find and use medicinal plants. The progression of the latter phenomena indicates the steady success of the initiates' own healing integration. Various factors such as psychological attitude and familiarization, correct plant combinations/synergy and a compatible healer-initiate relationship influence ubulawu responsiveness."

"The Yoruban [religion] divides the cosmos into Orun, the sky, and Aiye, the earth. In the sky dwells Olodumare, the High God, a number of associated deities (the Orishas), and the ancestors. Olodumare is seen as somewhat remote and difficult to approach; hence He is not the object of shrines, rituals or prayers. He is seen as the source of all and the creator of the first 16 human beings. However, in most creation narratives it is Orisha-Obatala who is credited with creating the earth and transferr-ing the first humans to their new home. It is also believed that Orisa-Obatala began his acts of creation at Ile Ife. Hence Ile Ife is the center of all religious and spiritual power ... Obatala and Oduduwa are two primary Orishas within Yoruban cosmology ... Also important to the Yoruban system are the Egun... The role of various religious Priests and Priestesses in Yoruban society is to mediate between the people and the Orishas and ancestors."

Sacred Tales

"The first chapter presents the corpus and explains when, how and why, the Sacred Tales were written. They were written in the early 170s CE, based on Aristides' memories along with precise notes he took about his dreams and the ensuing prescriptions. Covering two main periods (143-155 and 165-171), the narrative is not chronologic and does not display any narrative suspense. Describing his illness and how the god cured him, Aristides is adamant about the protection he received (and still receives) from Asclepius. While composing the Sacred Tales to praise and thank the god, but also to recount a specific experience (parallels of which can be found in aretalogical inscriptions), he follows his friends' advice and demonstrates his ethos as a superior orator (because he has been saved by the god). Aristides' redemption narrative has not always been well regarded, especially during the Byzantine period. This disrepute lasted at least until the beginning of the 20th century.

The second chapter analyses in detail the relation Aelius Aristides has with illness and with those who can cure him. Ido Israelowich studies Aristides' treatments and the health-care providers he consulted, as well as the role dreams play in the recovery process. He also recounts the Sophist's medical biography, and sheds light on how patients, disease and physicians are conceptualized in the Sacred Tales. This kind of research is particularly interesting because it brings to the fore the point of view of a patient who is familiar with medicine, albeit not a specialist. Drawing his inspiration from the work of Arthur Kleinman, Thomas Kuhn, and Tamsyn Barton, the author reconstructs the "Health-Care System" wherein Aristides evolves (a system where religion, philosophy and tradition are fundamental and in which the medical profession is quite well respected), to show that the orator shares the views of the people around him on medicine, and that the treatments he follows are not odd. It was normal to consult physicians, gymnastic trainers, and the Asclepieia's staff, and also take into account the dreams sent by the divinity. As for the orator himself, he conceives of his condition as a collection of symptoms rather than the consequence of a particular ailment. And it appears that Aristides' rhetorical career and his illness follow a very similar path.

The third chapter is more specifically devoted to the religious dimension of Aristides' medical experiences. Comparing the theological ideas Aristides expresses in the Sacred Tales and in his other discourses (particularly in the hymn Regarding Zeus), Ido Israelowich has to concede that Aristides' religiosity (acknowledging Zeus' supremacy in the pantheon while at the same time preferring to turn to Asclepius for healing) is not eccentric for the period, and that it has literary precedents (Homer, Pindar, Plato, etc.). Evoking once more the role of dreams and oracles, the author finally analyses the importance of cults, celebrations and images, both in the universe of the Sacred Tales and in the 2nd century Graeco-Roman world. Indeed, while his contemporaries share Aristides' medical discourse, the religious experience described in the Sacred Tales turns out to be equally representative of the period. This does not mean, however, that there is nothing new or original in Aristides' literary and rhetorical approach.

Sticking precisely to the historical framework, Ido Israelowich rightly shows that the Sacred Tales are not the work of an egocentric and neurotic person: it is a salvation tale that attests to an authentic experience, which is both unique and typical of the elite's religiosity in the second century CE. Despite a perhaps over-rigid general framework and a few repetitions, Israelowich offers wise thoughts on the situation of Graeco-Roman medicine during Aristides' period, on key notions in the medical domain (katharsis, pharmakon, etc.), on the apprehension of illness and the absence of a clear distinction between scientific and temple medicine."
